

'Tom Tom' makes hall of fame, school invites paper's alumni

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Less than 35 schools have been inducted into the National Scholastic Press Association's (NSPA) Hall of Fame, and now Antioch Community High School's (ACHS) "Tom Tom" is one of them.

On Jan. 26 there will be a reception at 6 p.m. in the commons area of the school in which all "Tom Tom" alumni are invited, followed by a recognition ceremony at 7 p.m. just prior to the Antioch/Vernon Hills boys' basketball game.

"The students have pioneered things," said faculty advisor Mike Gordy who has supervised the paper for the last 24 years. "In some ways it's an advisor's dream, because they want to try everything new. It can also be a nightmare because I have to keep learning new things to keep up with them."

At the end of every year, Gordy submits three issues of the "Tom Tom" for evaluation to NSPA run out of the University of Minnesota. To earn the highest rating of "All American" the papers must earn marks of distinction in at least four categories that include writing, editorial leadership, design and photography among others.

"These evaluations are wonderful because they let us know what areas are working and areas where we need more focus," said Gordy.

Gordy said the students do everything from setting assignments, writing, editing, taking pictures and processing film and laying out the paper using the PageMaker graphics program. "The only thing they don't do is the press run," he said.

"We're probably one of the only papers that isn't subsidized in some way by the school," Gordy added. He explained that the paper, with a circulation of 5,000, is a self-contained business that relies on advertising sales to cover its budget.

"This isn't because I told them what to do," said Gordy of the paper's operation. "The students have a competitive edge. They look at what other schools are doing and shoot higher."

This competitive edge has earned the school's newspaper 10 consecutive All American recognition awards from NSPA and is the reason the "Tom Tom" was added to the list of hall-of-famers.

"We had to hit it 10 years in a row, because they (NSPA) lost one year's submission," said Gordy. "The requirement is that you have to hit 10 out of 11 consecutive years. They are looking for consistency over the years."

He added, "It's fun to be an advisor when, nationally, schools are looking to you. This award is the carrot to keep going."

Millburn School Dist. 24 will hold testing for preschool students

Millburn School is offering preschool screenings on Friday, Jan. 18, from 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. This is available to children ages 3-4 in District 24.

Parents should bring an original certificate of their child's birth. A hospital certificate is not valid verification of a child's birth.

Also needed is proof of residency, which could include a driver's license, gas or electric bill, voter registration, etc.

Developmental areas evaluated will include speech and language, small and large motor skills, conceptual experiences and preacademics skills. To schedule an appointment, or for more information, call 847-356-8331.

Firefighters bowl to raise funds for burn camp

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Firefighters from Lake County Quadrant 2 made up of firefighters from Antioch, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Round Lake participated in the sixth annual Bowl-A-Thon for Burn Camp. All proceeds go to the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance, a group that in turn sends young burn victims to the burn camp held at Camp Duncan.

"The first year we had 35 people and raised $800," said Chris Lienhardt, information officer for the Antioch Fire Dept. "This year there were more than 170 bowlers, and we used the entire bowling alley."

According to Lienhardt, the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance uses donations made to the organization to help cover the costs of the camp. He said, "Anything we can do to help the burn camp is also part of why we are here as firefighters."

Lienhardt credits firefighter Mike Gliniewicz and Dave Torkelson from Grayslake with organizing the event. "We have the golf outing as our summer fundraiser, and this was the idea for a winter fundraiser," said Lienhardt.

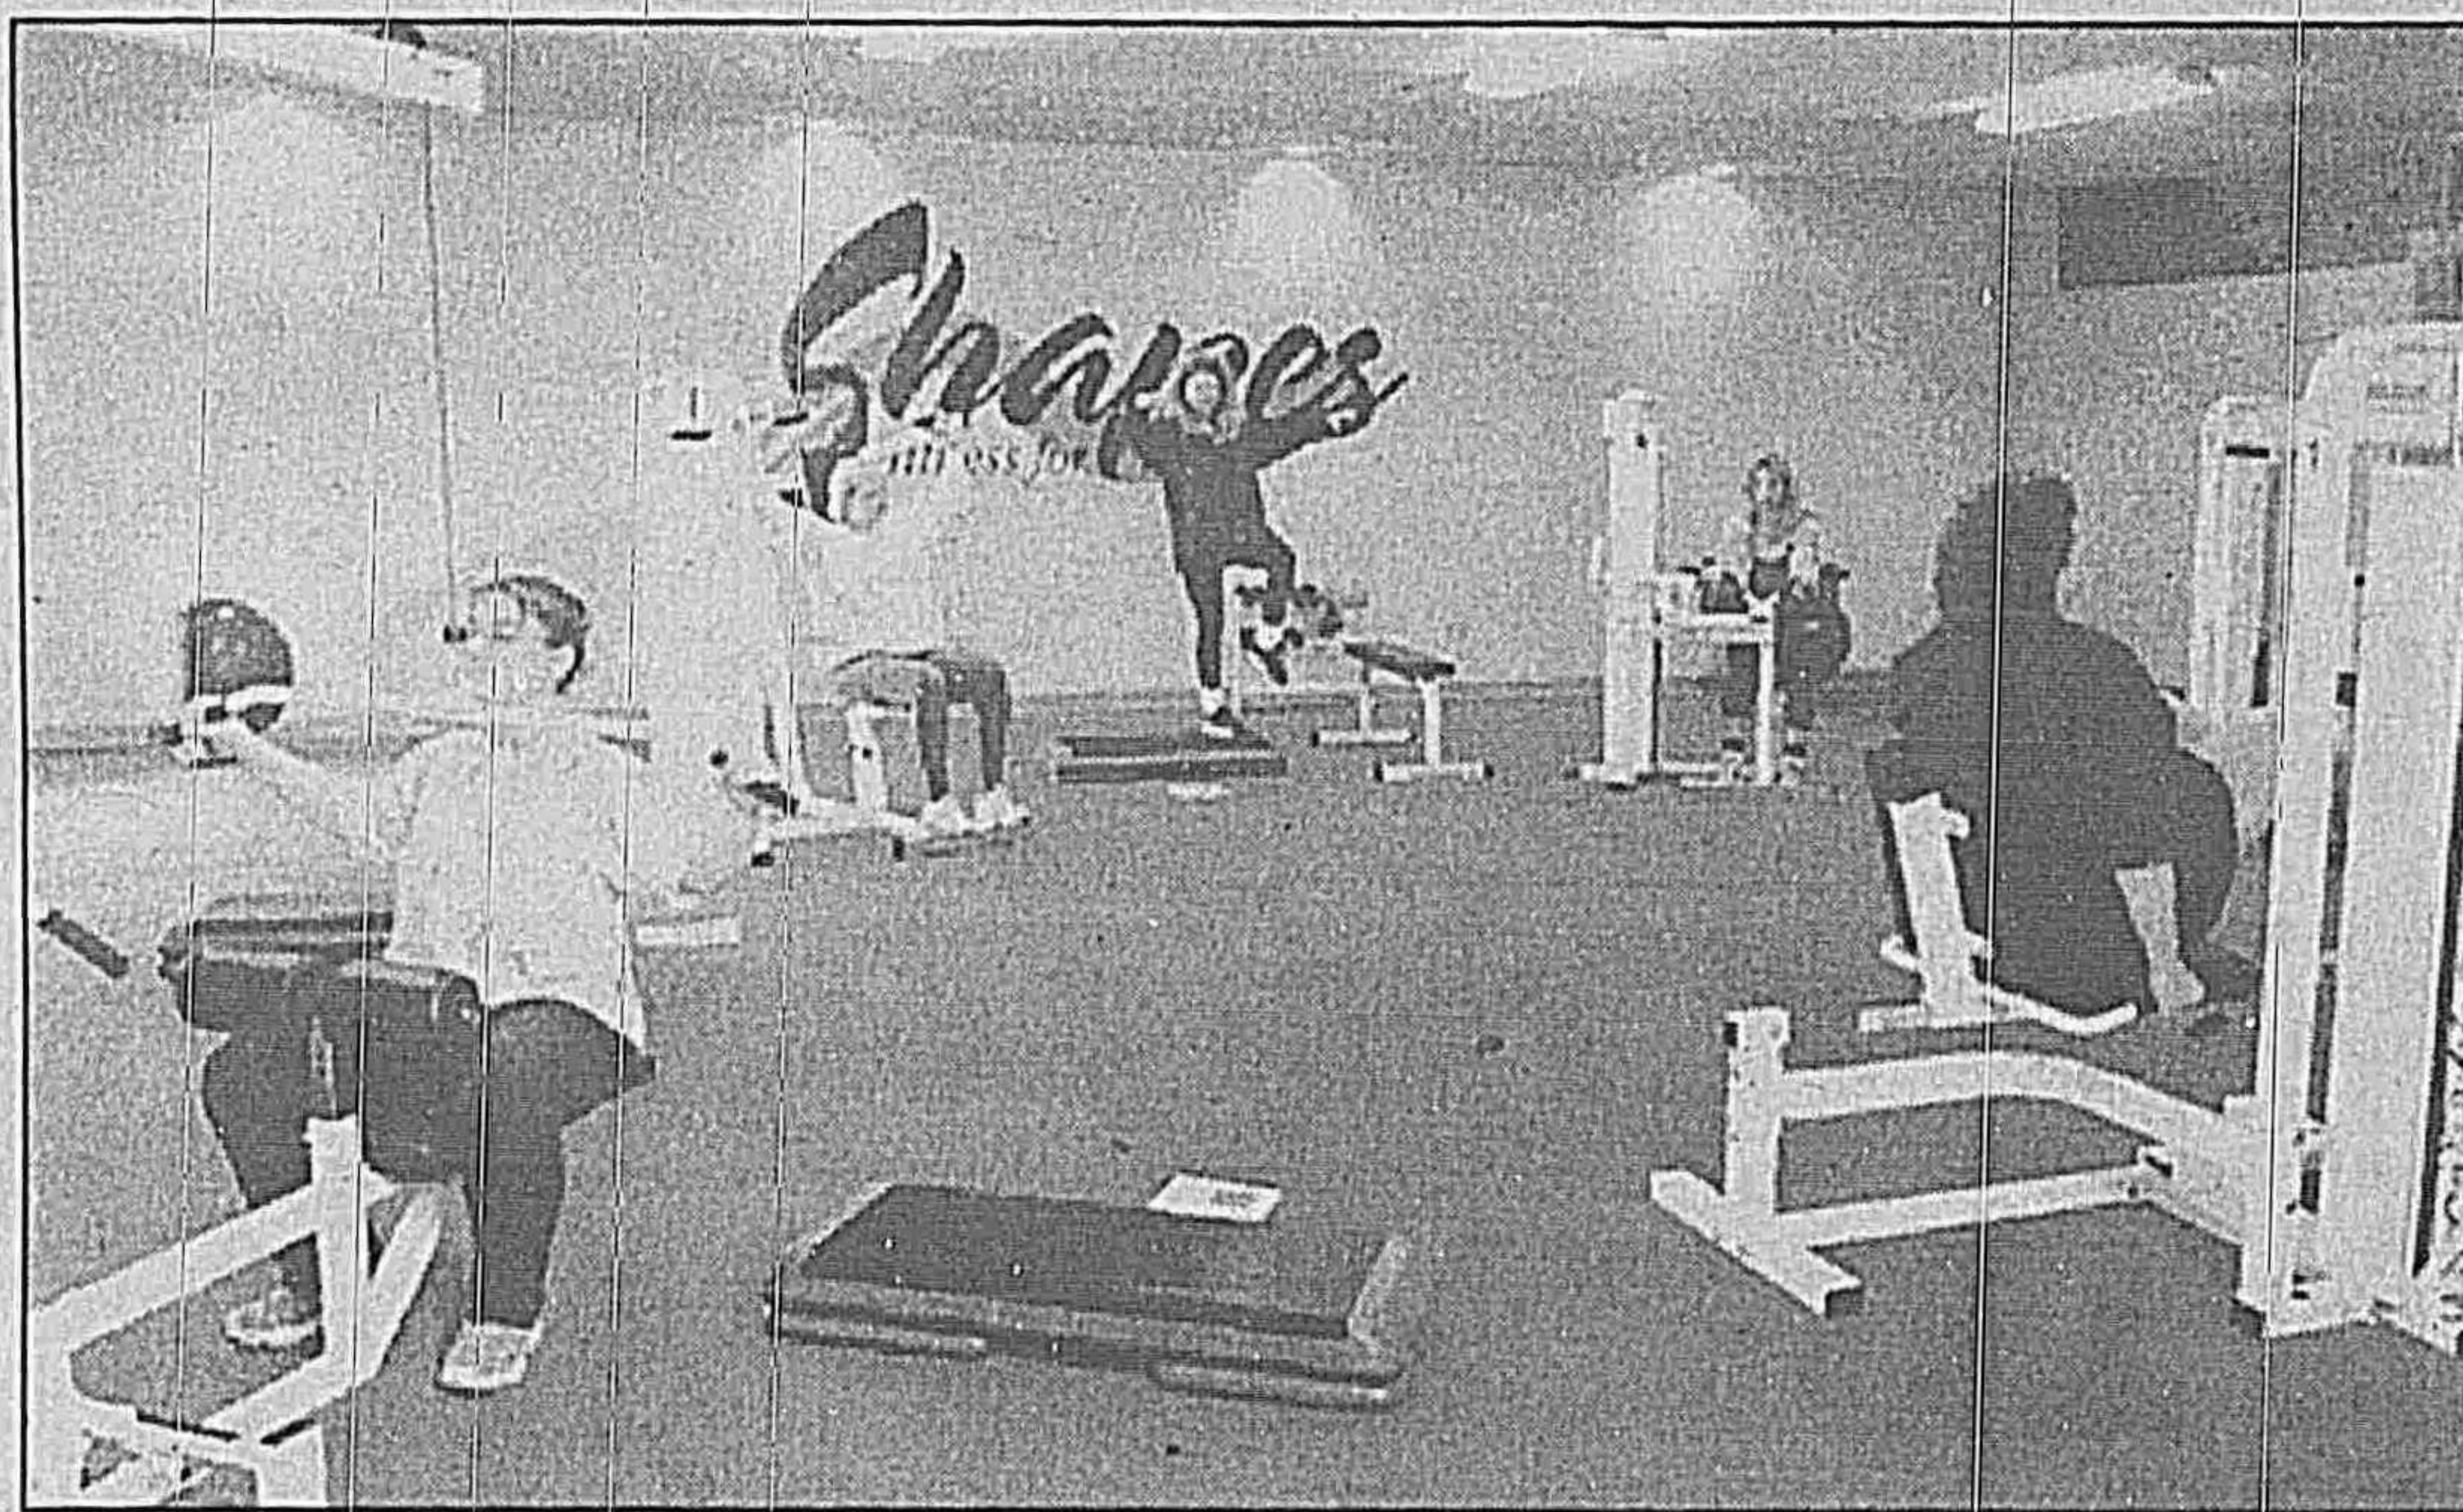

The Antioch Bowling Alley donated the lanes, rentals and the Tower Room banquet facility. "Every year the bowling alley is gracious enough to donate the use of its facilities so the money we raise can all go toward the burn camp," Lienhardt added.

"We're still tallying up all the totals from the sign-ups and raffles," said Lienhardt. "The business community is always very good to us in what they choose to donate to help us out." "This event is just one more way we can help these kids," said Lienhardt. "We're happy to do it."

Fine Arts Foundation offers instruction for youth and adults

Budding artists can choose from potpourri of classes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

At its debut, the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation told of plans to conduct classes that would be open to the public in the future. The future is now.

For adults, instruction is being offered in painting, ceramics, figure drawing, colored pencil, woodcarving, pastels, basket weaving, stained glass and calligraphy with classes to begin before the end of the month.

Three youth classes are being offered that will also begin before the month's end.

The class called "Paint Like the Masters" will introduce a different artist each week. Students will experience different media and techniques as they learn about each style of painting.

It's the perfect time to learn to "Weave Your Own Heirloom Easter Basket." This is a parent/child workshop for children 8 years old and up that will show the basics of making a basket. Students will learn the under/over weave with both flat and round reeds, and will be given a choice of color accents.

The "Saturday Art Fest" is an eight-week consecutive class that will give students the opportunity to discover new projects and/or techniques each week. The importance of experimentation and creativity is stressed.

The Antioch Fine Arts Gallery features two pieces of artwork from each of the foundation's 40 members and includes works in watercolor, acrylics, digital art, stained glass, ceramics, wood sculpture and woodturnings among others.

The foundation is "dedicated to furthering the creative efforts of its members while spreading knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts."

The gallery is ever changing as works displayed are also for sale.

The Lakes Region Historical Society purchased the house, adjacent to the former Episcopal Church being rehabilitated for a second museum building, and is allowing the Fine Arts Foundation to operate its gallery there.

Both patrons and members are welcomed by the foundation. There is no set donation amount to become a patron.

To become a member, there is a one-time membership fee of $50, $45 for seniors and full-time students of any age. The yearly dues are then $30 or $25 for seniors and students.

Members pay a $10 fee to display two pieces of their artwork, and must work at the gallery for four hours per month.

The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, and from noon-5 p.m. on Sunday.

For class information, call Arleen Cramer Omerod at 847-395-1415.

For gallery information, call 847-838-2274.

Burning down the house

Fire alters history in more than one way

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Just as chameleon-like orange and yellow flames swirl, swoop, switch directions and morph in size and color spewing smoke of differing colors, a building and its ultimate destruction can alter history.

The Great Northern Bank donated the old farmhouse north of its temporary facility on Rte. 83 to the Antioch Fire Dept. to burn down for training purposes. The building was going to have to be torn down to clear the way for the bank's new and permanent building, and this act changes the building's last legacy to that of helping to create an improved fire district for area communities.

"This was a historic landmark, sort of," said Ainsley Wonderling, whose ancestors purchased the property in 1841 for $1.25 an acre, and the home where she lived through kindergarten. "There was a log cabin on the site, and it was one of the original seven home sites in Antioch."

Jim Cook, Antioch Fire Dept. captain and assistant training officer in charge of this burn down said, "We had to research this house and started to run into a little problem. The first house in Antioch, a log cabin, was supposed to be on this lot. We had someone come in and determine that the foundation wouldn't have been suitable for a log cabin."

Wonderling said she had also had an archeologist out some years ago drawing the conclusion that the foundation of the log cabin must have been completely removed before the fieldstone cellar was put in for the house that stood for about 130 years, until Jan. 13, 2002.

The Antioch Fire Dept. along with the departments from Newport Township, Trevor (Wis.), Fox Lake and Lake Villa took full advantage and staged as many training exercises as possible before the buildings total demise.

Some of that training took place before the building was set on fire. "There are training exercises we do long before we burn the house," said Cook. "For instance, we can take firefighters in to study what is behind the walls so they have a better idea of what they are dealing with."

Over 50 firefighters participated in the burn down making up nine teams that included attack, rehabilitation, observation, staging, rapid intervention as well as various safety, stand-by and back-up lines.

Part of the job of the observation team was to test hand-held thermal imaging cameras that the department is considering buying. The image looks like a black and white film negative and shows the heat areas that extend far beyond the flames.

According to Chris Lienhardt, information officer for the Antioch Fire Dept., the rooms within the house were set up to simulate realistic conditions that would offer the teams search opportunities.

Everything was done with safety in mind. All federal rules governing live fire training were followed.

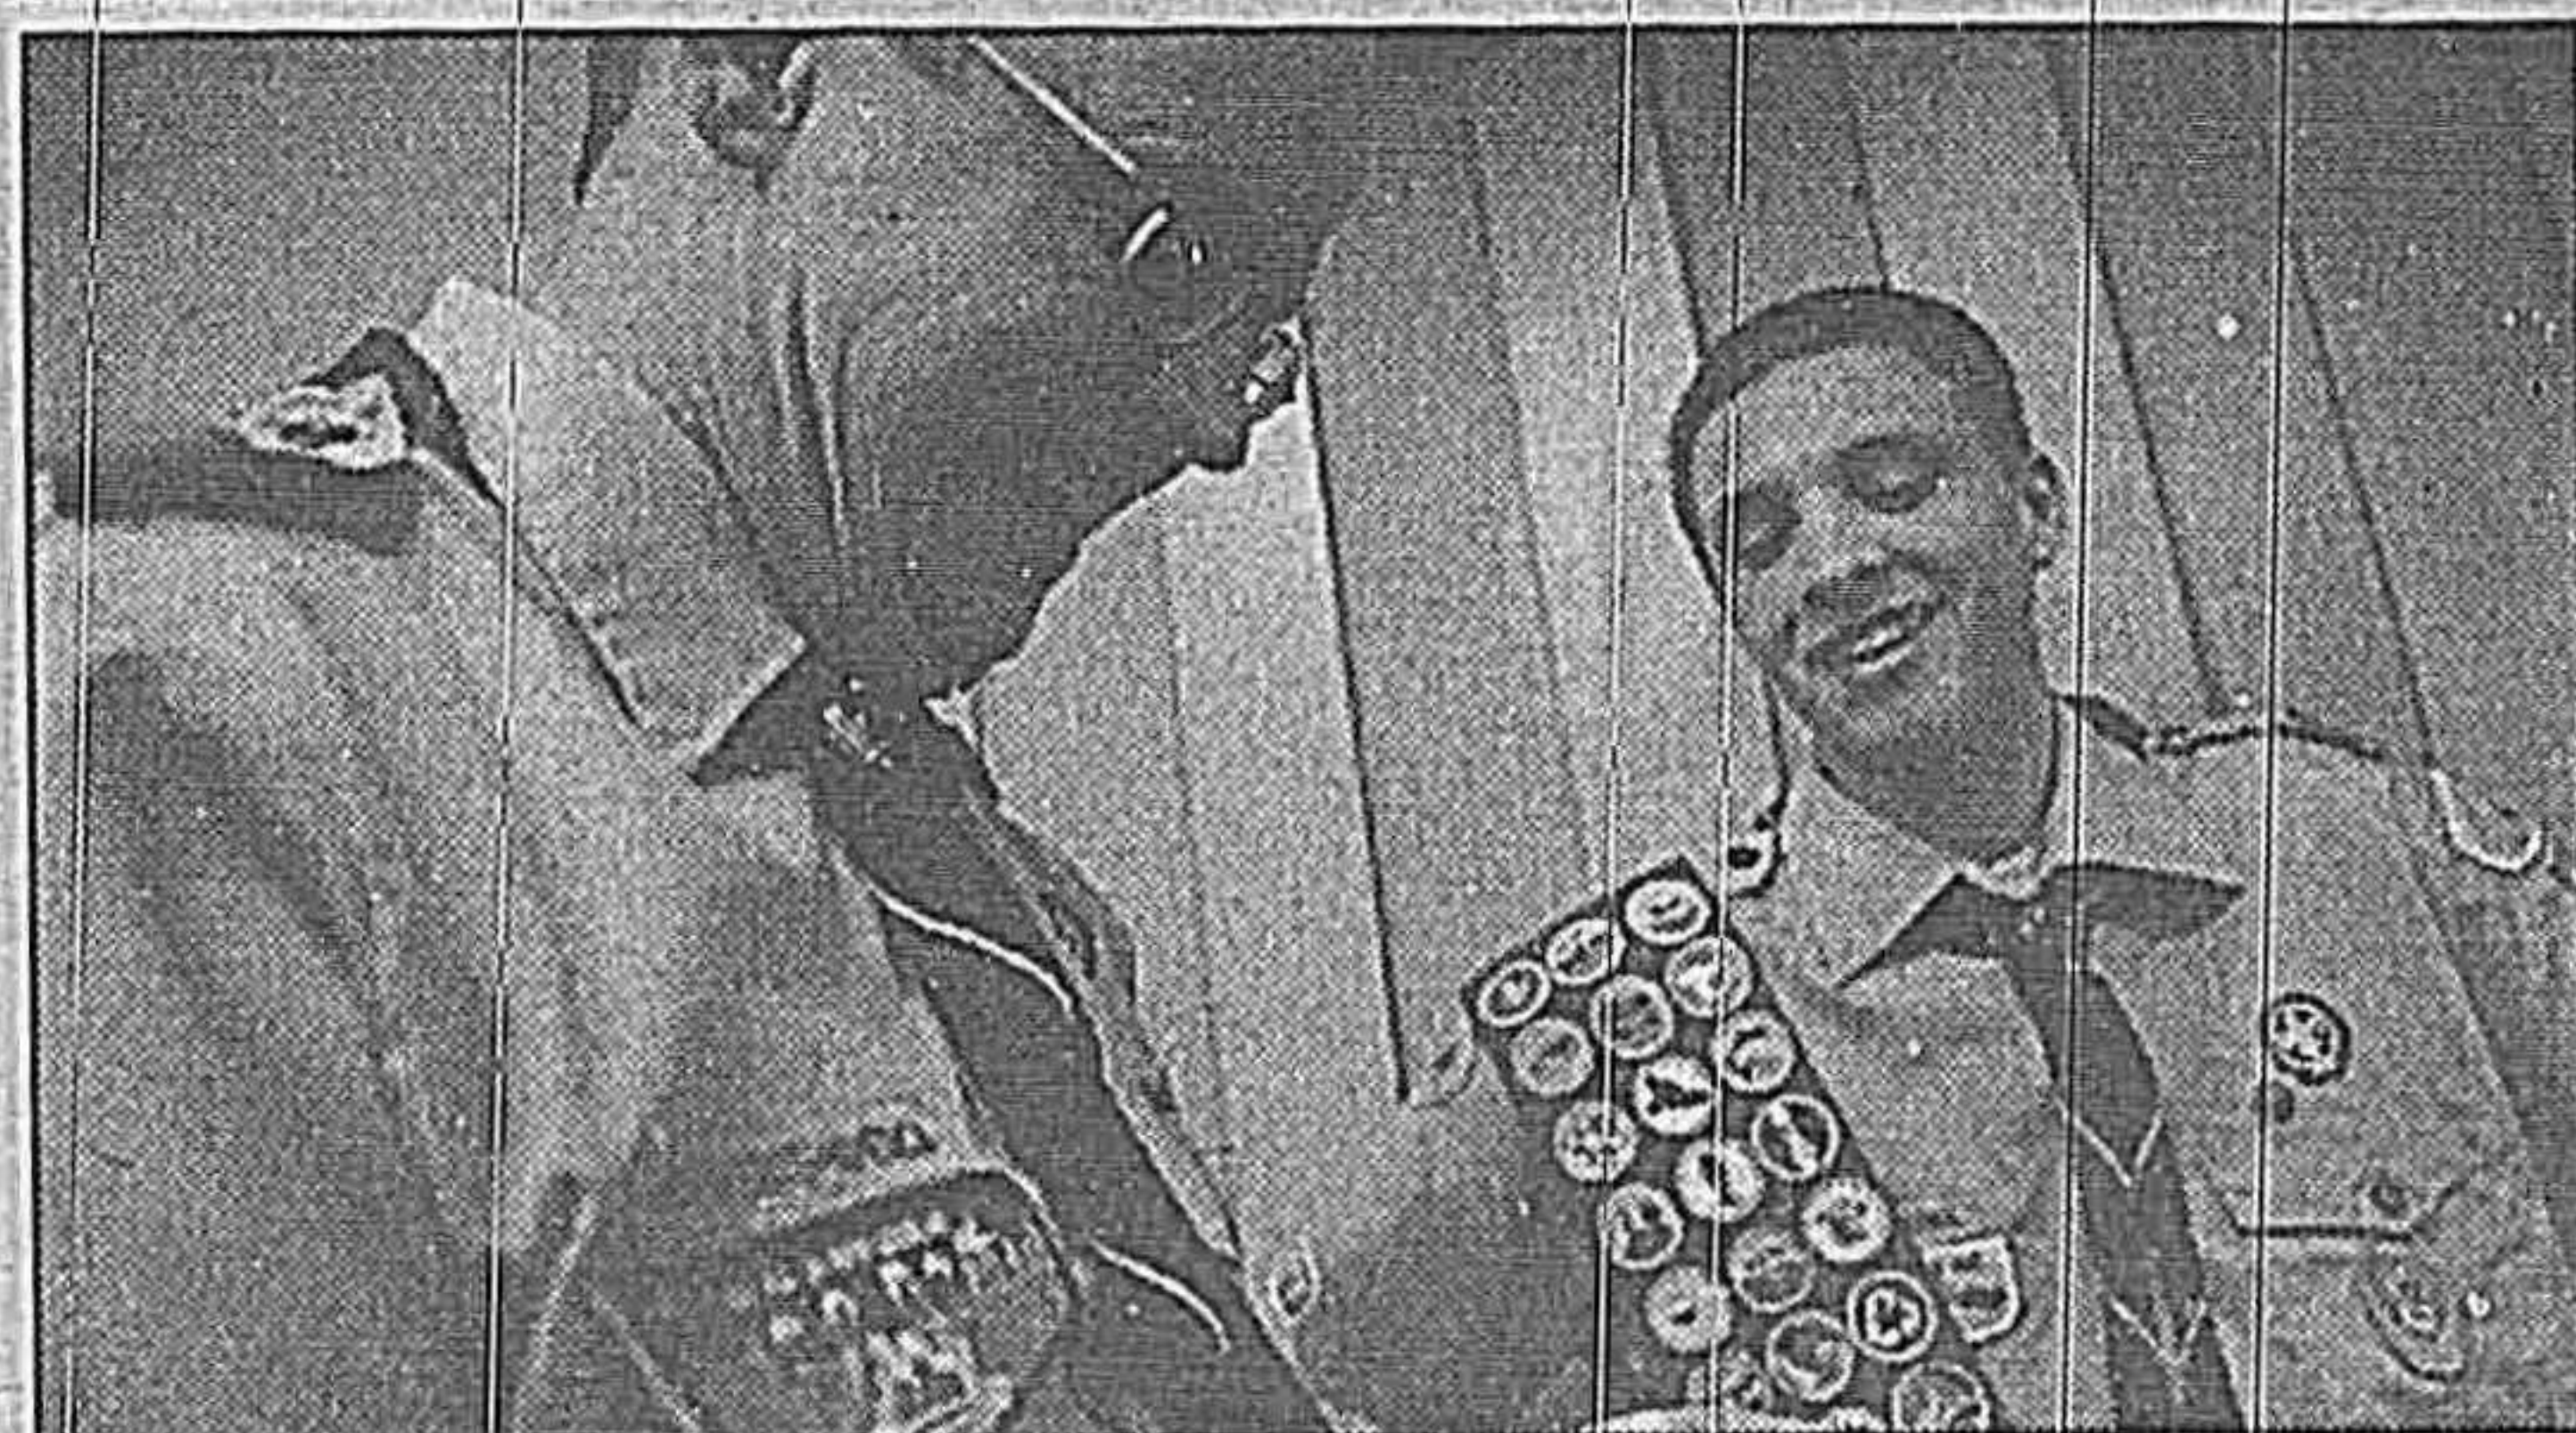

Asbestos was removed as well as glass windows. The windows were then boarded up in such away that the firefighters could easily remove the covering if they felt the need to "bail."

Ladders were set up on all sides of the house should the firefighters need them.

Several smaller fires were set before the building was allowed to go up in flames. The fires were started from the furthest locations from the entrances and stairs and gradually moved closer.

"I don't want firefighters to have to move over burnt area to get where they need to be to put out a fire," said Cook.

All firefighters were removed from the building when the heat from a lower level fire caused a material in the upstairs bathroom to catch fire. "There comes a time when you just have to let the fire go," said Cook. "There's a point where we can't save it anymore."

Bank fundraiser benefits March of Dimes

The First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBO) likes to hold a "Casual because We Care" day monthly to benefit various charities. Its Jan. 18 casual day will benefit the March of Dimes program "Blue Jeans for Babies."

Employees will dress casually in exchange for a minimum $2 each donation to the March of Dimes. Community members and customers are also welcome to donate money for the cause.

The March of Dimes reports that during an average eight-hour workday 3,544 babies are born. Of those, 266 weigh less than five and one-half pounds and are considered low birth weight babies, 135 are born to mothers whose prenatal care is little to none, 137 are born with some form of birth defect and 26 will die before their first birthday.

Kathy Nixon, a receptionist at the bank said, "They (casual days) give the employees a way to collectively contribute to the community."

All of the proceeds of this fundraiser will go to the March of Dimes Greater Illinois Chapter.

Anyone knowing of a local charity or other cause that needs to be funded, can call the bank's marketing officer Karen Kubin at 847-838-2265 with ideas for upcoming casual days.

It's not too late to get tickets for the parks department's daddy/daughter dance being held in February. Tickets will be on sale to residents through Jan. 23.

Because this is a very popular program, tickets will not be for sale on the night of the dance as the crowd is usually sell-out.

The event is to take place on Feb. 9 from 7-9 p.m., and is held at the Antioch Upper Grade School. The doors will not open until 6:45 p.m.

The cost is $10 per couple for residents and $5 for an additional daughter attending.

The price of admission includes ice cream sundaes, punch, a souvenir picture and corsages for the girls.

Tickets become available to non-residents on Jan. 24. The cost is $20 per couple, but the price for an additional daughter remains $5.

Tickets can be purchased at the parks office located at 806 Holbek St. The phone number is 847-395-2160.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Trustee defends record

I am writing in response to James Novack's letter (published in the "News Sun") questioning my voting record for creating new positions in Antioch.

Part of his information was derived from an article in the "Pioneer Press" the week of Dec. 20, 2001. He took many of his statements out of context from that interview. I was asked to comment about new job creations in light of the financial problems Antioch is experiencing.

Rich Kufalk was hired the night Mayor (Taso) Maravelas was sworn in. I voted yes for Rich because I've known him 25 years and know him to be a conscientious and dependable person. I never questioned his ability only the spending of the money in light of our financial situation.

The same is true of the Sue Ring hiring. These are capable people, but I question the need to create two new positions where there weren't any before.

In the eight years I've been on the board (and eight-year chair of public works), I've never received one phone call from a citizen complaining he or she couldn't get through to public works.

In the hiring of Walt Shepard, I voted to hire him for $30 an hour and at the next board meeting was asked to authorize giving Mr. Shepard $36 an hour.

We were told Mr. Shepard was receiving an IMRF (Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund) pension and could not work directly for the village because we are also IMRF. We would need to hire him through another firm as a consultant for $36 an hour.

Our administrator stated Mr. Shepard had much experience we could use, so I agreed.

Mr. Novack failed to acknowledge my support of this administration to hire on a village engineer. With the growth the village is experiencing, I think hiring Jim Keim was a wise move by the mayor and I have told him so publicly and privately.

In the case of Paul Howard, he has performed as director for the Antioch Senior Center for almost 17 years. I knew of Mr. Howard's qualifications, as did every other board member. He has been the heart of the Senior Center and his qualifications were never in question.

As to my last six months, perhaps he (Novack) will want to visit our new skate/bike park next summer and see what the $100,000 grant I helped secure through Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) will mean to the young people of Antioch.

*Antioch
Trustee Village of Antioch*

Trustee's voting record comes under fire

When Dorothy Larson votes it may or may not really count. Her votes (under the previous administration) were essential to bring forth the situation currently existing in Antioch.

Her response to her votes at village board meetings has been, "I did not know," so she obviously believes not knowing means her votes did not count.

No matter what she says to justify her reasoning, a vote is a vote.

Her latest attempt to question the mayor also questions her own votes. The best case example: "I would not hire Rich Kufalk." Excuse me Trustee Larson, you did hire him.

Trustee Larson questioned the hiring of Walter Shepard to do site inspections for the village at a rate of $30 per hour. I wonder what her input was during her last two terms of office when the village contracted out (the position) at $70 per hour? I bet she'll tell you, "I did not know back then."

During Trustee Larson's last two terms in office the village residents were not able to reach the public works department directly when in need of help. Trustee Larson voted yes to hire Sue Ring as secretary for public works on May 21, 2001.

Now these things are happening, but her vote did not really mean yes according to her recent skepticism in a local paper.

Trustee Larson also voted yes to hire Paul Howard for the Senior Center. In all other hiring actions she has insisted on public advertising, screening and approval of the job candidate. In this case, she could not vote fast enough.

This last six months she has been an obstruction to the mayor and his appointments on his cost savings actions, plans and employees. Not once has she offered any constructive plans to help the village. Maybe she should reconsider her position for the good of the community.

Hillcrest seeks volunteers for 'mad math'

Hillcrest is looking for parent volunteers to help with "mad math" for about one hour for one day a week.

The program, piloted by Oakland grade school, has been developed to help kindergarten and first grade students commit basic math facts to memory. Volunteers will run through flash cards with the students who will be trying to "beat" their own previous scores. For more information call 847-838-8000.

AUGS hosts tech night

Antioch Upper Grade School (AUGS) will be hosting a Microsoft Family Technology

Night on Wednesday, Feb. 6 from 6:30-9 p.m. The goal is for families to learn how to use computers together.

There will be student demonstrations as well as opportunities to learn how to research on and off the Internet. Information will be provided about children and technology, and using technology to enhance learning. As a bonus, there will be a free software drawing.

For more information, call the school at 847-838-8316.

AUGS parent meeting

A meeting for the parents of eighth-graders has been scheduled for Jan. 22 from 7:15-8 p.m. in the school cafeteria of the Antioch Upper Grade School (AUGS) to discuss the transition from the middle school to the high school.

Discover a quarter-century of preserving history

Faces from the past greet visitors to the Lake County Discovery Museum's Mall of History. The museum, located near Wauconda, will celebrate its 25th anniversary this year.

story by Steve Peterson
photos by Sandy Bressner

Since taking over a historical collection from a Wadsworth resident 25 years ago, Lake County Discovery Museum has aimed to entertain and educate visitors.

Whether you're interested in a pioneer summer school, taking a NOVA produced sci-fi trip through millions of years of history in 10 minutes, or watching a Civil War re-enactment, the museum, located near Wauconda, is the place to be.

"We make an effort to involve the community. We have focus groups and sometimes we try ideas for children first," said Diane Drestke, museum historian.

A revamped museum at the Lakewood Forest Preserve in 2000 added the word "Discovery" to its title. "We put in all new exhibits and completely redid the museum. That is also when we obtained the largest postcard collection in the world, the Curt Teich Collection," Drestke said.

For about 10 years, Bob Voegel's historical collection of Lake County artifacts was stored at the former Nike Missile site. In 1972, the Lake County Museum Association set the stage for the present museum format. The Lake County Forest Preserve opened the museum, located off Rte. 176, in 1976. The museum has more than 20,000 objects.

Early on, the museum's efforts were to create an environmentally sensitive area for the collections with storage areas, according to Museum Director Janet Gallimore.

In 2000, the Lake County Museum was honored by a national park district group as its gold medal winner.

"It is important to preserve our heritage before it is all gone. Historically, we have done a poor job of preserving historical structures compared to the East Coast," said Al Westerman, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve.

Westerman's family was one of many donors to the museum. His family operated a 120-acre dairy farm near Russell Road until the 1950s.

The Lake County Museum took over the private collection of artifacts, which did not survive very well at the Nike Missile site and other locations, Westerman said. "There was a lot of humidity and water damage. The silos were not set up to house artifacts," said Westerman.

The Lakewood Forest Preserve site east of Wauconda became accessible to the public in 1976. Gary Keller, Becky Goldberg and Gallimore have all served as directors.

Westerman would like to see the maintenance portion of the site moved so the Discovery Museum could take over some of their buildings, if funds become available. The museum will run the Bonner Farm and has an advisory committee set up for planning of the Lindenhurst site. Westerman said he would also like to see a heritage farm set up at a museum site.

Supported by Lake County Forest Preserve tax dollars, the museum is also funded by many private donations. About 1,200 people, counting the Civil War re-enactors and the Farm Heritage Show participants, give their time. "People help out with tours, or they can greet guests at the front desk," Drestke said of some volunteers' interests.

Karen Beasley and other volunteers helped organized hundreds of Fort Sheridan related artifacts.

A "Space Odyssey" fund-raiser attracted 250 people to the museum last fall. Another popular attraction has been a rotating artists display. Internationally acclaimed artist Dennis Downs had his work displayed there in December. Local servicemen who donated their military artifacts for display are featured in a Vietnam War area.

Late this year or early next year, an exhibit will be opened in honor of the Chicago Bears legend Walter Payton.

Drestke explained that the artists exhibit area is in much demand, with a waiting list. "We ask that the people live in Lake County or be part of a group," she said.

Other featured areas include

Lake County's Mall of History, including hideaways of gangsters to modern-day malls and theme parks.

The interdependency of Chicago and Lake County is also told.

In the Great Chicago Fire of 1873, a Lake County farmer tried to take his products to market. He was turned back by people chased from the burning city, and elected to help a family instead.

One area shows the several movies made in Lake County and the invention of the Magnascope, an invention by Edward Amet (1860-1948) of Waukegan.

Hanging on to a seat during the NOVA produced historical show, one can learn what life was like in the glacial times, when Native Americans dominated the landscape.

Drestke said the museum works with many others, whether it be Miami Beach's effort to recreate architecture, the web site Sopformuseums.com, or sharing rare artifacts. National magazines such as "Vanity Fair" have used the postcard collection for research. Another rare collection is John High's silk postcards.

"You can get a sense of variety in the postcards that are made," Drestke said.

So, if you're interested in any or all of the things mentioned above, pay a visit to the Lake County Discovery Museum and experience some of Lake County's history firsthand.

Vietnam vets' stories told through photos

From Da Nang to Saigon they served, fighting in America's most controversial war.

The service of Vietnam Veterans is honored in a display at Lake County Discovery Museum near Wauconda. It includes photographs taken by servicemen, uniforms of the era and letters sent home.

"This is not a statement about the war being good or bad," said Diana Drestke, museum historian.

One of the photos includes the flag of the City of Chicago at a Vietnam base.

Uniforms include medals won by service people, and equipment, such as a pair of combat boots worn by John Koppen. A visitor may learn the importance of a blue and silver award for the infantry, or that the average age of the serviceman and service-woman in Vietnam was 19 years-old, compared to 22 years-old in World War II. Two and one-half million Americans served in the war.

The 41 major battles that the U.S. fought in during the war, including air missions over North Vietnam and Cambodia, are depicted. A battalion newspaper with an account of a Bob Hope appearance is included.

Drestke explained how the temporary exhibit area works. "We are always looking for new ideas. The veterans who we talked to were very cooperative."

One of those veterans is Joe Hammersmith of Waukegan. Hammersmith was an X-ray technician in Da Nang in 1966-67.

SPECIAL EVENT

Zoinks!

The gang is coming to stage

Scooby-Doo and his mystery-solving gang, Shaggy, Velma, Daphne and Fred, will take the Rosemont Theatre stage by storm Feb. 8-17, in their first-ever theatrical production. Tickets for the premiere engagement of "Scooby-Doo in Stagefright — Live on Stage" are on sale now.

The live show gives Scooby-Doo fans of all ages their first chance ever to see their favorite characters from TV's longest-running cartoon series and their comical brand of detective work on stage. The production promises hilarious hi-jinks, groovy music and magical special effects never before seen in a family theatrical presentation.

In this exciting new production, the beloved Hanna-Barbera characters — Scooby-Doo, Shaggy, Velma, Daphne and Fred — will take to the stage to solve a classic Scooby-Doo-style mystery. The show takes the form of a "long-lost episode" in which Scooby-Doo and the gang solve the mystery of a supernatural specter wreaking havoc at the old Clawhammer movie studio. The gang faces one hilarious situation after another as they hunt for clues on the set of a scary movie directed by Daphne's totally hip uncle. With crazy creatures, perplexing puzzles, and an abundance of Scooby snacks, it's Scooby-Doo and the gang at their best, solving cases and traveling the country in their Mystery Machine.

"Scooby-Doo in Stagefright — Live on Stage" appears at the Rosemont Theatre Feb. 8 through 17. Weeknight performances are at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday performances are at 1, 4 and 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday shows are at 1 and 4 p.m.

Tickets are $15, $22.50 and $29.50, and can be purchased at the Rosemont Theatre box office, 5400 N. River Rd. in Rosemont, all Ticketmaster location, by phone at 312-559-1212 or on-line at www.cc.com. The official tour web site, which includes interactive games and tour information, can be found at www.cartoonnetwork.com/scooby.

The Cabaret sponsor is First Midwest Bank, and the guest artist sponsor is the Anderson Corporation. Tickets for the program are $90 per person and advance reservations are required. For information please call or visit the Symphony office at 50 E. Old Mill Rd., 847-295-2135.

AMERICAN LEGION

Representing military

America is at war, therefore the American Legion has announced Blue Star Banners are back.

Since World War I, a Blue Star Banner displayed in the front window of a home told others that a family member was serving in the armed forces. Blue Star Posters are now available free to Gurnee and Warren Township residents through the Gurnee American Legion Post #771. It is with pride they support this program.

Also, all worn and tattered American flags can be turned in to the post home at 749 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Gurnee for proper ceremonial disposal. Call 847-223-9379 for additional information.

GARDENING

Free flowering trees

Ten free flowering trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during January 2002. Receive two white dogwoods, two crabapples, two pears, two Washington hawthorns, and two American redbuds by sending a $10 contribution to Ten Free Flowering Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Jan. 31.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Feb. 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six-to twelve-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge. Members receive a subscription to the Foundation's bimonthly publication, "Arbor Day," and "The Tree Book" with information about tree planting and care.

Planting by design

Whether old or new, many homes have foundation plantings that are in need of revamping. Douglas MacDonald, garden designer, will teach the principles of good foundation design and will show examples of before and after landscapes at the Chicago Botanic Garden on Wednesday, Jan. 30. The class takes place from 7-9 p.m. and cost is $21 for members, $27 for non-members. Call the Chicago Botanic Garden at 847-835-5440 for registration and information.

THEATER

Shovel hits the dirt

From the author of the Broadway smash "The Beauty Queen of Leenane," Milwaukee Repertory Theater invites audiences to once again return to Ireland's rural village of Leenane for a startling visit. The gravedigger's wife died under questionable circumstances seven years ago. Rumor and mystery have surrounded the caretakers of the village graveyard ever since. The town may find the answer to the mystery when the gravedigger is forced to exhume his wife's body. Now the shovel hits the dirt to reveal the true story. "A Skull in Connemara" reviews on Jan. 18 and 19, opens Jan. 20 and closes Feb. 10.

Purchase tickets in person at The Rep ticket office, 108 E. Wells St. in Milwaukee or by calling 414-224-9490. Tickets can now be purchased on line at www.milwaukee-rep.com.

FITNESS

Register now

Join Lake Forest Hospital's Health & Fitness Institute, Gurnee Park District and Lindenhurst Park District as they kick off their first Spring Indoor Triathlon Classic. Adults 18 years of age and older will put their physical fitness to the test as they compete against time in a combined swimming, bicycling and running event. All skill levels are welcome. The triathlon will be held at the Health & Fitness Institute in Lindenhurst on Rte. 45, one mile north of Grand Avenue (Rte. 132).

Register now through March 1 for the March 17 event. There's a $25 fee for each participant. Interested persons are urged to register early as the maximum number of participants is 80. For information, call 847-535-7500. Registration forms can be picked up at Park District offices and Health & Fitness Institute facilities in Lindenhurst and Lake Forest.

WRITERS

Antioch Fine Arts Foundation is open to the public Thursday-Saturday from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. and Sundays from 12 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Zanies to feature special guest

Zanies Comedy Night Club, 230 Hawthorn Village Commons in Vernon Hills, will present special guest Dom Irrera, Jan. 24-26. Dom Irrera is a man of many faces and voices, each funnier than the last. With a quick change of expression and dialect, he moves from character to character in a non-stop commentary on the human comedy. He can mine humor from any situation and his characterizations are always dead-on.

A cable TV comedy favorite, Irrera continues to gain credits. He's currently co-hosting cable TV's football follies show, "Offsides." In 1995, he won his second CableAce Award for Best Stand-Up Comedy Series or Special for "Full Frontal Comedy," a stand-up series he hosted. The same year Irrera received another CableAce nomination in the writing category for his work on the animated series "Dr. Katz: Professional Therapist."

Dom Irrera will appear at Zanies Comedy Night Club in Vernon Hills, Jan. 24-26. Call 847-549-6030 for information.

His talents developed while growing up in a multi-generational Italian household in South Philadelphia with his mother, sister, grandmother, uncles and cousins all under one roof. Together there were three floors and four generations of family that helped provide fodder for the variety of characters for which Dom is so popular.

Irrera has developed a following beyond the comedy club circuit through his many television appearances. In addition to his own comedy specials, he has been a guest on "The Tonight Show," "The Late Show with David Letterman" and "Conan O'Brien." In 1993 and 1994, he hosted "Comedy From The Danger Zone," which was taped at the Just For Laughs Festival in Montreal. On the big screen, he played the Hollywood writer in Robert Townsend's "Hollywood Shuffle."

Showtimes are Thursday, Jan. 24 at 8 p.m., Friday, Jan. 25 at 8 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. Tickets are $18 per person with a two drink minimum. Call Zanies at 847-549-6030 for more information.

Artist show expresses feelings

The Old Court House Art Center, 101 N. Johnson in Woodstock, is pleased to present an art exhibit entitled "After 9-11," a show of fine art created in response to our national tragedy. The exhibit will be on display through Feb. 24.

On Tuesday, Sept. 11, 2001, the day that changed America and Americans, our society had the strange experience of witnessing live and in replays the destruction and collapse of New York's World Trade Center. Those unforgettable images of the terrorists' attack dominated our televisions for the next four days.

Most Americans found it difficult or even impossible to return to life as it was. The artists in this show were invited to express those changes and share their feelings through their artwork. Seventeen artists will be showing almost 30 pieces of art produced after 9-11. Some of the titles of the artwork in this exhibit include "Shattered (with a ray of hope)" by Jane Johnson; "Twin Towers" by Sarah Hahne; "Under the Rubble" by Jeanie Hill-Soldner;

"Terror May Be Invisible" by Peg Cullen; "Collateral Damage" by Jade Catlin Oliver; "Orphan of War" by Susan Fosnot; and "Please Guide Us" by Nancy L. Steinmeyer.

Most of the artists and the Old Court House Arts Center have agreed to donate a percentage of sales of artwork to the United Way September 11th Fund.

The Gallery is open Thursday-Saturday from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday from 1-5 p.m. There will be a reception on Sunday, Jan. 20, from 2-4 p.m. and the public is welcome. The Old Court House Art Center is located at 101 N. Johnson, on the Woodstock Square. For information, call the gallery at 815-338-4525.

Nancy L. Steinmeyer's "Please Guide Us" is a plea for a rational reaction to the tragedy.

Handy work to be displayed in Winterfest

BY VICTORIA SCHROEDER
Staff Reporter

Many store windows in downtown Grayslake will be decorated during Winterfest, Saturday, Jan. 19, with hand-crafted quilts made by a talented, top-notch group, the Grayslake Prairie Patch Quilting Guild.

"Some (quilts) are family heirlooms, some wall hangings and some are brand new," said the guild's membership chairman Betty Koehler.

On average, two hours is invested per 12 inch square of a quilt. By hand, a queen or king size quilt, unless it can be worked on everyday, can take about eight months to make.

Winterfest visitors will be able to view quilts on display in downtown Grayslake businesses. Admission is free and there is ample parking.

As far as selling the quilts, according to Koehler, "We offered that option to the quilters, but it is up to them."

Some quilters have become attached to their creations and hope to keep them among their family and friends.

Marci Morley, the guild's community service director, said that she will allow her "Eye Spy" quilt to be displayed, but adds that it is not for sale. She described her entertaining creation as a bright, colorful, crib-size quilt made of 200 three-inch hexagons featuring Superman, dogs and penguins.

In commemoration of the 9-11 disaster, the guild made a 25-squared red, white and blue patriotic quilt to be displayed and raffled during the Center Street Quilt Walk. The quilt's center square is hand-embroidered with the words: "Remember 9-11-2001. God Bless Us All. Amen."

A five-block wall hanging with a red Lady Liberty and the word "America" embroidered on it, will also be raffled.

"A generous amount of the raffle's proceeds will be donated in honor of 9-11. We want to give it to some local charity related to fire and rescue," said Morley.

She added that potential charities include the Lake County Sheriff's Search and Rescue or Lake County Sheriff's Widow and Orphans Fund.

A small portion of the proceeds will go towards the guild's own fund to cover their various expenses.

In addition to the raffle, the guild does many community service projects. Currently, they are making lap quilts to donate to Winchester House in Libertyville. Morley estimates that they will have at least 30 quilts to give this Spring.

Another project, in which many guilds across the United States participate, is creating cloth tote bags for breast cancer patients. Representatives from the American Cancer Society (ACS), fill them with video tapes, pamphlets and pillows then distribute them to patients in the hospital.

"It is something personal to give them during a difficult time," said Morley.

Morley has collected 40 bags from the guild, which will be sent off to ACS this Spring.

Morley, who has been quilting for eight years, said the Grayslake Prairie Patch Quilting Guild is a "great, friendly and helpful group of ladies. I have really learned a lot and really enjoy my time."

The guild meets at 9 a.m. on the second Monday of every month at Shepherd of the Lake Church, 285b E. Washington St. in Grayslake.

Chicago Botanic Garden offers family programs

The Chicago Botanic Garden is the perfect destination on school holidays, with special free family activities planned on Jan. 21, Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, and on Feb. 18, Presidents' Day.

Families can make a nature journal on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, or draw landscapes based on the Garden's art exhibit, "the State we're in...landscapes of the heartland," on Presidents' Day. They can bundle up and enjoy a walk to the Japanese Islands, and then warm up with a treat from the Garden Café and a stroll through the Greenhouses.

Also during WinterGreen, the Chicago Botanic Garden's annual winter festival, Garden staff will lead free, half-hour nature walks for families each Sunday at 2 p.m., from Jan. 20 through March 10. The walks provide fun ways for families to explore the Garden, while enjoying some fresh air. Each walk involves an activity, game or skill development that helps families experience nature together in an active way.

Several Garden Adventures programs for children and families are being offered during WinterGreen including:

Nature for Tots

Young children learn songs, hear lively stories, create take-home crafts and discover the wonders of nature through walks in the Garden (weather permitting).

Children's Workshop - Ages 5-7

Which is bigger, a whale or a snail? Learning math and measurement skills can be lots of fun. Make plant graphs, animal height charts and much more.

Children's Workshop - Ages 8-11

Ancient Egyptian mummies were wrapped in it. Only kings were allowed to wear it. It was once worth its weight in gold. What is it? Indigo! Learn more about the history and chemistry of this fascinating plant and dye a T-shirt to take home.

Junior Master Gardener Club - Grades 3-5

Kids who are gaga over gardening, puzzled by plants or bewitched by bugs will want to sign up for the Junior Master Gardener program. This program, developed by Texas A&M University, uses enjoyable hands-on activities to teach kids in grades 3 to 5 about plants and gardening and helps them develop science and leadership skills. Classes are taught by Chicago Botanic Garden education staff and guest speakers.

Family Programs

Families will learn all about America's favorite treat - chocolate - including how and where it grows, how monkeys help it grow and lots more.

Pre-registration for all programs is required. For additional information, call 847-835-6950, or visit the Garden's web site at www.chicagobotanic.org/children.

Matambre shows off flank steak to advantage

Vegetables and grains have their charms, but meat holds an inviolable place in the American diet.

Food writers Bruce Aidells and Denis Kelly build on that premise in their authoritative guide, "The Complete Meat Cookbook" (Houghton Mifflin Co., 604 pages). In it, they explore the nuances of selecting, seasoning and cooking beef, pork, lamb and veal. The end result is a fine collection of more than 230 recipes, including many standards from shepherd's pie to stews to a Vietnamese stir-fry.

Prosciutto, has its roots in the kitchens of Argentina. It's a wonderful dish for company — or a Sunday night family supper. We served it with a fresh spinach salad, garlic mashed potatoes-and-rutabaga and a hearty Zinfandel.

Matambre (Rolled Stuffed Flank Steak)

1-1/2 to 2-pound flank steak
Salt and freshly ground black pepper

Marinade

3 Tbl. olive oil
1 tsp. minced garlic
2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. freshly ground black pepper

Stuffing

1/3 lb. Prosciutto, dry coppa or cooked country ham, thinly sliced
Large leaves from a bunch of spinach, stems removed, well washed
1/2 cup chopped fresh basil
1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
2 Tbl. minced garlic
1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
2 Tbl. olive oil

Sauce

1/2 cup toasted almonds
1/4 cup fresh bread crumbs
2 Tbl. olive oil
1 cup fresh or canned fire-roasted red bell peppers or pimentos
1/2 tsp. red pepper flakes (optional)
Salt and freshly ground black pepper

1 additional tablespoon olive oil

Combine the marinade ingredients in a small bowl. Set aside while you prepare the steak. Butterfly the flank steak by slicing through it horizontally, leaving the meat attached at one end. Open it out, cut side up. Season the cut side lightly with salt and pepper.

To make the stuffing: Lay the slices of Prosciutto, coppa or ham over the cut side of the steak. Lay the leaves of spinach over the slices. In a bowl, combine the basil, parsley, bread crumbs, garlic, cheese and olive oil. Spread over the spinach leaves and roll the steak up tightly like a jelly roll. Tie the roll in several places and brush the outside all over with the marinade.

To roast in the oven: Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Heat the 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large, heavy skillet over medium-high heat. Sear the beef roll on all sides, 6 to 8 minutes total. If the pan is ovenproof, place it directly into the oven; otherwise, transfer the meat to a roasting pan. Roast for 20 to 30 minutes and then check the internal temperature. Remove the meat when it reaches 120 degrees to 130 degrees F. Cover loosely with foil and let the matambre rest for 10 to 20 minutes. Serve with the sauce.

Sauce: In a food processor, process the almonds to a thick paste. Add the bread crumbs, olive oil, roasted peppers and optional red pepper flakes and process until smooth. Taste for salt and pepper.

The South Gate Series: Writers on Writing

The Ragdale Foundation and the South Gate Café present the second program in the South Gate Series featuring best-selling, Oprah-featured authors Fern Schumer Chapman, author of "Motherland" and Tawni O'Dell, author of "Back Roads." Both writers live in Lake Bluff and are mothers of young children. They will discuss how they came to their craft and how they incorporate their writing into daily living and family life. Audience participation will be encouraged and there will be a book signing.

The dinner and dialog will take place at the South Gate Café in Lake Forest on Wednesday, Jan. 30 and will begin at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the program will commence at approximately 8 p.m. Tickets for the dinner and program are $35 per person and reservations are required. Call the Ragdale Foundation at 847-234-1063, ext 205, for more information and reservations. Parking is at 1230 N. Green Bay Rd.

Tawni O'Dell (top right) and Fern Schumer Chapman (above) will speak at the South Gate Café on Jan. 30 for dinner and dialog. The Ragdale Foundation and the South Gate Café sponsor the event. Call 847-234-1063 for reservations.

Ragdale is a place where writers and artists of all disciplines can find uninterrupted time to work in a peaceful setting. Ragdale is situated on 50 acres of virgin prairie in beautiful Lake Forest, Illinois, and each year, provides living and working space for more than 200 writers, visual artists and composers from all over the United States and from many other countries.

Vietnam vets' stories told through photos at museum

From Da Nang to Saigon they served, fighting in America's most controversial war.

The service of Vietnam Veterans is honored at a display at Lake County Discovery Museum near Wauconda. It includes photographs taken by servicemen, uniforms of the era and letters sent home.

"This is not a statement about the war being good or bad," said Diana Dretske, museum historian.

"It is very touching," said Don Kutinac of Fox River Valley Gardens, who has visited the display.

One of the photos includes the flag of the City of Chicago at a Vietnam base.

Uniforms include medals won by service people, and equipment, such a second pair of combat boots worn by John Koppen. A visitor may learn the importance of a blue and silver award for the infantry, or that the average age of the serviceman and servicewoman in Vietnam was 19 years old, compared to 22 years old in World War II. Two and one-half million Americans served in the war.

The 41 major battles that the U.S. fought in during the war and air missions over North Vietnam and Cambodia are depicted. A battalion newspaper with an account of a Bob Hope appearance is included.

Dretske explained how the temporary exhibit area works. "We are always looking for new ideas. The veterans who we talked to were very cooperative."

One of those is Joe Hammersmith of Waukegan. Hammersmith was an X-ray technician in Da Nang in 1966-67.

The Lake County Discovery Museum is located off Route 176 at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. Admission is $5.50 for adults, $2.50 for those ages 4-17. Phone number is 847-968-3400.

IMAX 'Beauty' provides beastly entertainment

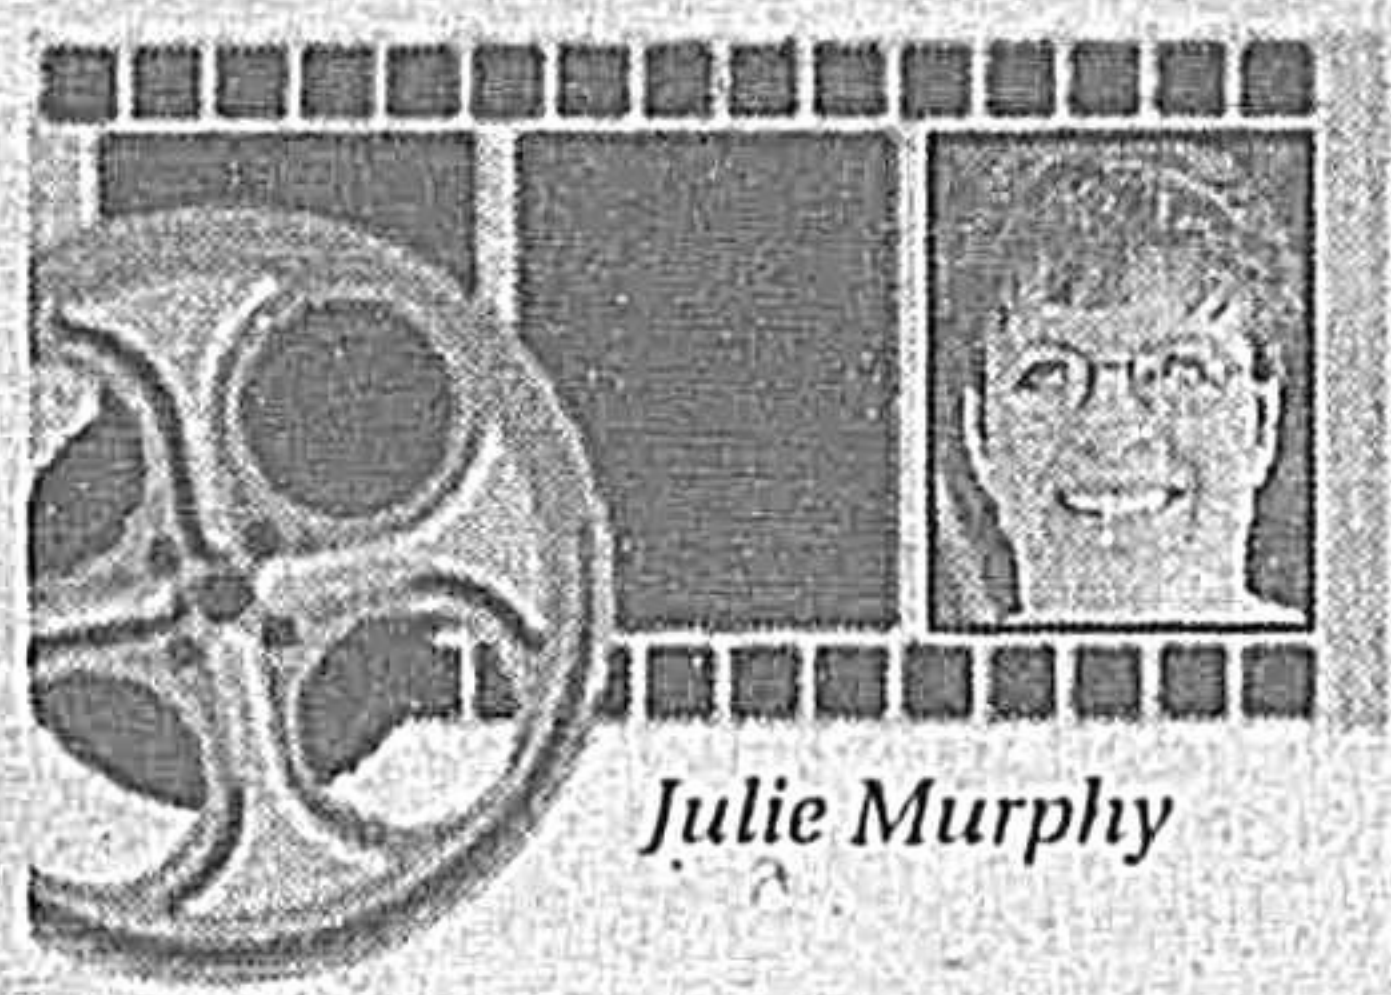

I love Walt Disney movies and "Beauty and the Beast" has been one of my favorites since I first saw it at its release a decade ago with my then two-year-old daughter.

No doubt, the movie is great. It is the first and only animated film to be nominated for the Academy Award for best picture, and it won Oscars for best score and best original song.

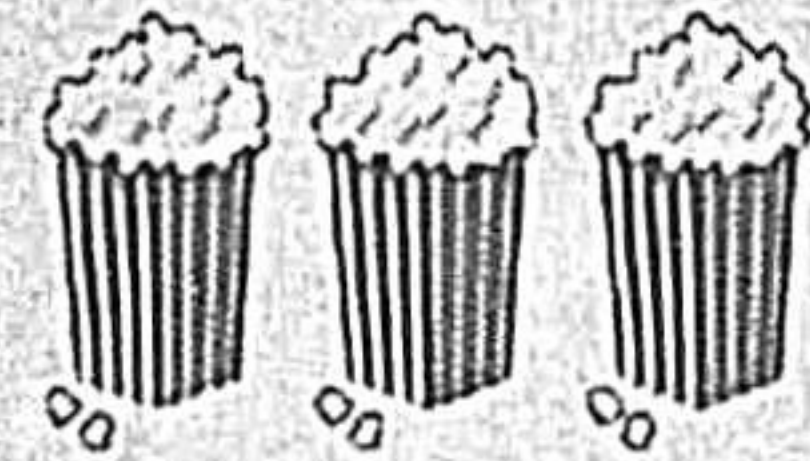

I was giddy with anticipation at taking my daughter to see the IMAX production of "Beauty and the Beast" for her 12th birthday as it was the first movie she ever saw in a theater.

I remember "Beauty and the Beast" as visually spectacular, particularly the extravagant production of the song "Be Our Guest." I thought "Fantasia 2000" was a gem and that Disney fully utilized the IMAX technology to its advantage.

movie review

Julie Murphy

I expected that this "special edition" production of "Beauty and the Beast" would be a visual delight too, and was saddened that it fell somewhat short of expectations.

Though this production is another of firsts, as Disney has never before animated a new sequence for a previously released feature, this romantic adventure loses some of its magical quality on the huge screen.

According to the Disney web site, animators and post-production crews spent more than one year going through the film scene by scene doing things like enhancing the backgrounds and improving special effects.

Maybe they did too much enhancing.

I found the faster, busier scenes with lots of hustle and bustle of the town's people to be downright hard on the eyes to watch. The dramatic size of the IMAX screen accentuated the flaws of animation and made those scenes seem jerky, as though they could use extra frames between to smooth the action.

I don't recall feeling this way when I saw "Fantasia 2000" which was specifically created for IMAX. I also found this to be less noticeable in the new sequence created for "Beauty and the Beast" and in the dance scene to "A Tale as Old as Time" as well as the scenes that weren't as action oriented.

Disney animators were successful at incorporating the new musical sequence to "Human Again," an original song and the last collaboration of the late Howard Ashman and Alan Menkin. Original artists were brought back to make sure the scene fit seamlessly, spending two years to get everything just right.

Maybe it is just because it is "new" to the movie, but this was my favorite part. The song and the scene were great and fit logically to progress the movie's story.

According to Disney production information, the song had been previously cut but was never animated as it was decided it wouldn't fit within the original movie.

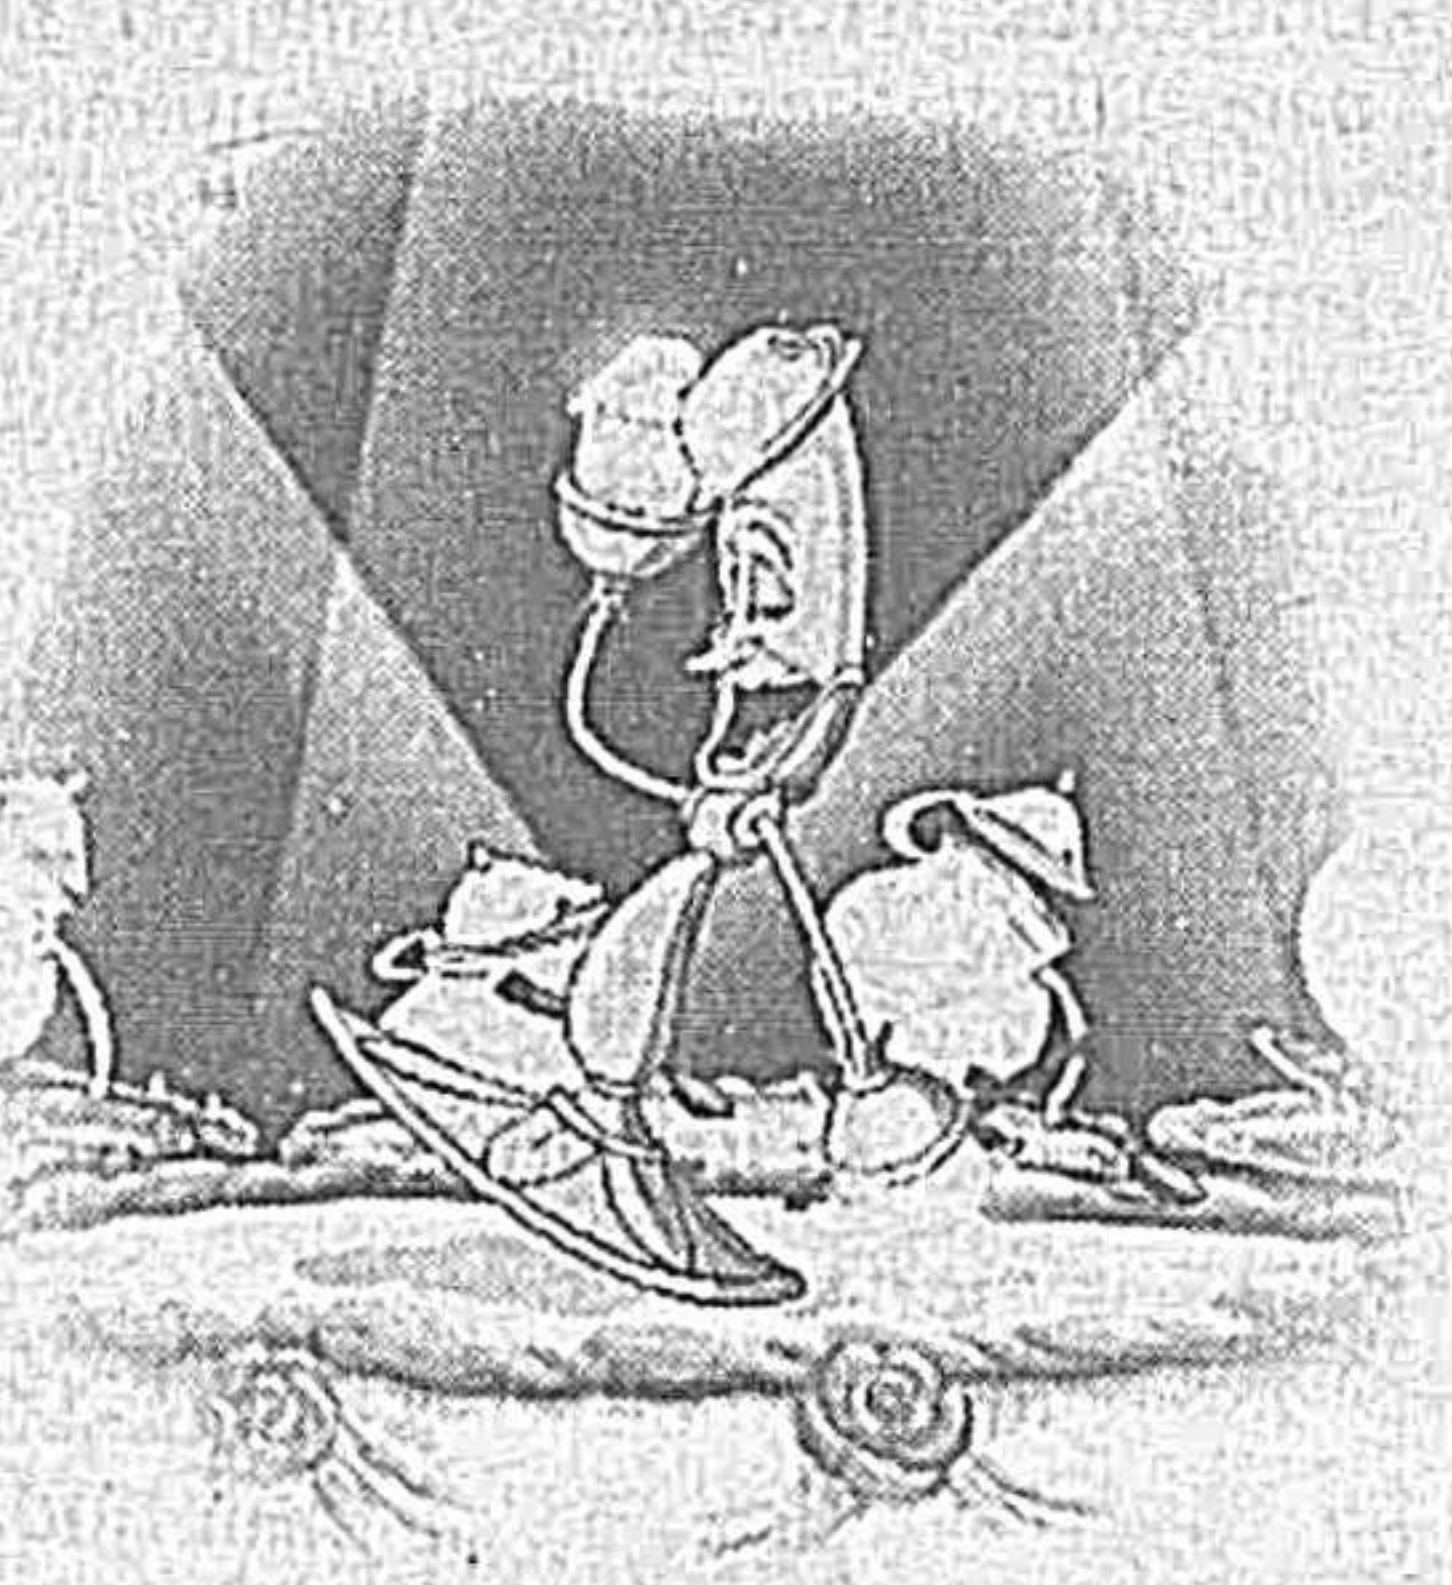

Producer Don Hahn is credited with ensuring the IMAX version would not be grainy but crystal clear, and was successful in his efforts.

I, apparently, am not the only parent to make "Beauty and the Beast" the first theater going experience for the two-year-old child.

The IMAX experience aside from the movie is intense. Prior to the movie's start, IMAX shows off its technological capabilities in a manner that is frightening to the little ones. Though all of these children settled when the preview of the special edition of "Lion King" for next year's release began, the theater may have made too much of an impression on its younger audience members.

I give this movie three popcorn boxes as the action was distracting in this larger format. However, if videos become available in the future that have the new musical sequence, I would give the video five popcorn boxes.

MOVIE REVIEW KEY

- 1 Box Someone should be fired for making this movie
- 2 Boxes Wait until this movie comes out on video
- 3 Boxes Expecting a bomb but pleasantly surprised
- 4 Boxes Wow! I'm impressed
- 5 Boxes Don't miss this movie!

Belle and the Beast's dance comes to life as Disney takes the movie from the big screen to an even bigger screen with its IMAX version of Beauty and the Beast.

Shakespeare with a twist

Palette, Masque, and Lyre (PM&L), Antioch's community theater, is presenting a most unusual play in February. The Reduced Shakespeare Company's "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare" (Abridged) by Jeff Borgeson, Adam Lang and Daniel Singer. Play dates are Feb. 8, 9, 15, 16, 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 10, 17 and 24 at 2:30 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

Fasten your seat belts for this raucous, high flying spoof of the Bard's entire works breathlessly performed by five zany actors. Director Bruce Weise, from Woodstock, has chosen Paul Bleadow from Kenosha; Timothy Curtis from Woodstock; Stacey Majers from Antioch; Maraugh Quilan from Woodstock; and Ken Scheskie from Salem, Wis. Reggie Reynolds, from Antioch, is stage manager.

Reservations begin Jan. 28. Box office hours are Monday-Thursday 5:30-7:30 p.m. Saturday 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and 11/2 hrs. before curtain time. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors. Tickets can be reserved by mail prior to Jan. 28. PM&L, Box 24 Antioch, IL 60002. For more information or tickets call 847-395-3055.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

It's time to save up your pennies, Aries, there is some rough financial road ahead. You may want to consider taking up some temporary part-time work to get you through.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Expect some major changes at the workplace by Wednesday, Taurus. It is bound to cause some commotion. Extra stress at work makes home life a little tricky this week.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Keep clear of an upset family member on Tuesday, Gemini, this person is only bound to ruin your good mood. Your love like takes an unexpected turn for the better.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Sarcasm can be your downfall on Tuesday, Cancer. Best to keep quiet for a while and remain busy. You'll be needed to put in extra hours at work, but the rewards will probably be generous.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Life is the cat's meow for you, Leo. A big raise seems imminent and a promotion is not too far on the horizon. Your positive mood can only be enhanced by a chance encounter this weekend.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

It seems that things are looking up for you, Virgo. You're finally out of the slump that's been bogging you down lately. A better mood frees up more time for recreation.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Your patience is tested at work on Thursday. Too many technical difficulties with faulty equipment cause your temperature to rise. Just be level-headed and hope for the best.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Stress has driven you over the edge on more than one occasion in the past, but this week you've finally found the formula for remaining calm. Expect dinner plans for Friday.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You need to find a new interest, Sagittarius. Why not adopt a pet to focus your attention in a different direction. A party on the weekend leaves you anxious — an old flame will rattle your nerves.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20,

Stop butting heads with that coworker. Your teasing and arguments are just masking the underlying attraction you feel for each other, Capricorn. Accept the truth and pursue this attractive catch.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Stop being so hard on yourself, Aquarius. You are your own worst critic — others around you don't judge you as harshly. Leave room for self-indulgence on Friday.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Your relationship is bound to end this week, Pisces, but it's not your fault. This person is just not ready for a long-term commitment. Remember, there are other fish in the sea.

ANTIOCH

Warrant arrest

Leonard J. Nemeth, 26, of 538 Maplewood Drive, Antioch, was arrested on warrant on Jan. 11 at 2:09 a.m. in the parking lot of 912 Toft St.

Police saw the vehicle he was in with white smoke coming from under the hood. The officer heard the engine running and looked inside and saw Nemeth asleep on the front seat.

Nemeth told police he was unaware the car was overheating, and that he must have fallen asleep while waiting for a friend to drive him home.

Nemeth's identifiers were checked through LEADS and came back with information that he was wanted on a Logan County warrant carrying $1,000 bond (10 percent applies) for failure to appear.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures.

Nemeth was released on cash bond pending his Feb. 19 court date.

Suspended driver's license

Alejandro Paz, 19, of 433 Orchard St., Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on Jan. 12 at 9:45 a.m. on Main St. south of Poplar.

Police observed his vehicle to have a defective brake light. Paz's identifiers were checked through LEADS with information coming back that his driver's license had been suspended.

Paz was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for having only one red taillight, driving with a suspended driver's license and operation of an uninsured vehicle.

He was released on personal recognition pending his Feb. 27 court date.

Operating on foreign license while revoked

Samuel E. Porsther, 28, of 635 Herda Avenue, Twin Lakes, Wis., was arrested for operating on a foreign license while revoked on Jan. 9 at 8:23 a.m. at the intersection of Depot and Center streets.

Police locked Porsther traveling at 41 mph in a posted 20-mph school zone. His identifiers were checked through LEADS and returned valid in Wisconsin, but revoked in Illinois.

Porsther was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for speeding and operating on a foreign license while revoked. He was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognition pending his Feb. 13 court date.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Concerned citizens of Antioch and surrounding communities

The Antioch Village Board is making a decision on the Neumann Home Development on Jan. 21, 7:30 p.m. at the Antioch Community High School.

You need to call our village trustees to let them know how you feel on this very important issue. No response from you leads the board to believe that residents do not care. Please call the following trustees: Wayne Foresta, Scott Pierce, Bob Caulfield, Larry Hanson, Barbara Porch, and Dorothy Larson. If you have any questions regarding this development, you may go to the web site www.SaveAntioch.com.

Impact of this 1240 home development along with our village financial situation will raise our taxes. If you don't make the developer be accountable before the plan is approved, it will be too late.

Come to the village board meeting on Monday, Jan. 21 to see if the trustees have listened to your concerns.

LAST CALL

John Phelps

Big game hunters

She misses the competition and the camaraderie involved with the high school setting.

But Warren junior Ashley Alden is looking out for herself and doing the right thing.

Alden, last year's IHSA Girls Gymnastics state champ in the all-around, is sitting out this season in favor her next level aspirations.

"I definitely miss working with her," said teammate Danyelle Aber, who shared the all-around title with Libertyville's Lauren Petric at the county meet.

"But she's doing what's best for her."

And for the last six or so years, Alden has trained and competed for the American Academy of Gymnastics.

"I definitely miss competing in the high school meets. I miss the girls, especially my teammates," said Alden, who still travels with and supports the Blue Devils at a handful of meets and invitationals. She was on hand as the Devils took second at the Lake County meet on Jan. 12 at Stevenson.

"But I'm trying to prepare myself and get better for college."

Hence, Alden has decided to compete for the Wheeling-based gymnastics academy with hopes of enhancing her chances of getting noticed by major college coaches.

"It's great exposure. Meets are all over the country and all of the girls are level-10," said Alden, a level-10 herself. "Plus, I'm also not as tired (competing for club) because the schedule is less demanding. I got so worn out competing for the school, which is pretty much non-stop for three months. We only have about four meets a year (for club), with nationals in early May."

With more time to practice, Alden has had a chance to incorporate new tricks into her repertoire.

"Because she's only a junior, she wanted more time to work on her skills," said Leonard Isaacs, Alden's coach and owner of American Academy of Gymnastics.

"She just wants to get ready for college coaches. A lot of them show up at the meets we compete in."

Isaacs said one thing Alden certainly isn't lacking is poise.

"Her ability to compete under pressure is incredible," he said. "A lot of all-around titles are won or lost on the balance beam. Ashley is so cool, calm and collected when it comes to the beam."

Proof is in the numbers. Alden set a IHSA state meet record with a 9.75 on beam her freshman year.

Interested in seeing Alden compete, fans can check out the Chicago Style Meet Feb. 8-10 down at Navy Pier in Chicago. Alden's first meet for American Academy is Feb. 1 in Las Vegas.

Congratulations to area runners

Michael Szasz and Michelle Ralph. Szasz, a Hungarian native living in Vernon Hills, and Ralph, a Gurnee native, were both named male and female "Runners of the Year" by the Chicago Area Runners Association. Both were winners of CARA's year-long Circuit race competition.

This past season, Szasz, 30, won five races ranging from 5k to 10 miles in distance. He attends Oakton Community College. Ralph, 36, won four races ranging from 5k to half-marathon in distance. She is a physical therapist.

The duo will be honored Jan. 19 at 6 p.m. at the Chicago Athletic Association, 12 S. Michigan Ave., downtown Chicago, as part of CARA's Annual Awards Party and Fundraiser.

Other area runners being honored include Lake Bluff's Kris McKinnon, Mundelein's Bennett Brenton, Lake Villa's John Hoffman, Connie McCabe of Lake Forest, Libertyville's Mary Ann Zemla and Waukegan's Erika Warnke.

Tickets are available by calling 312-666-9836.

Bad back can't keep Simonini down

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

A medicine ball and plenty of stretching exercises. It all adds up to continuous therapy for freshman gymnast Angel Simonini's nagging back.

"I couldn't even tell you how I injured it initially," the freshman explained. "I just know I had an MRI over the summer and they told me I have a herniated disc. The therapy keeps my back as strong as possible. I'll probably need surgery before too long. But I don't want to miss any meets. I love to competing too much."

Bad back or not, Simonini has turned some heads already this season where Antioch varsity gymnastics is concerned.

Simonini is no stranger to gymnastics and competing. She took up the sport age the ripe age of one and starting competing for club at age seven. Simonini also trains with teammate Amanda Wagener at the Grayslake Gymnastics factory.

"Amanda and I push each other," said Simonini, also a cheerleader for freshman football.

Antioch's freshman Angel Simonini competes on beam during the County Girls Gymnastics Invitational at Stevenson. Simonini scored an 8.6.—

Simonini's best score this year was a 9.3 on floor in a dual meet action. Her highest finish in competition was a fourth-place effort at the Westosha Invitational.

Simonini and Wagener led the charge as the Sequoit gymnasts turned in an eighth-place showing at the Lake County Meet Jan. 12, hosted by Stevenson High school. Antioch finished with a score of 133.100.

"We have a lot of freshman but we're doing better," said head coach Debbie Bessette. "But I was very impressed at how we did, seeing that many of the girls have never competed before."

Simonini finished 21st in the all-around with a cumulative score of 33.600. Her day included a 17th place effort on beam (8.6) and 22nd place showing on vault (9.0).

"I've incorporated a handspring full on vault but had to back off and take it easy because of my back," she said. "I didn't do so well on bars—I kind of crashed."

Meanwhile, Wagener finished 24th in the all-around (33.150) after taking 20th on vault (9.05) and 26th on beam (8.4).

Also figuring into the Sequoit scoring included senior Liz Miedona 24th on bars (8.4), junior Becky Geyer a 7.0 on beam, and junior Ashley Myers a 7.8 on the floor exercise.

Katie Collins, Ashley Ovaska, Kimmy Ruggles and Lindsey Anderson are four freshmen also turning some heads. Collins had an 8.8 on vault and an 8.85 on floor to finish 22nd in the all-around (33.350).

"She's an animal in practice. She's never competed before," Bessette said. "She only comes to (Antioch Gymnastics Zone), where I teach, for only a couple of hours a week. But what she gets accomplished is incredible."

Ruggles turned in a 7.1 on bars, Ovaska a 6.2 on beam and Anderson an 8.3 on vault and 8.9 on floor. The Sequoits hope to supercede their county showing when the North Suburban Conference meet rolls around Jan. 26, which will be hosted by Stevenson High.

Sequoit boys could find answers against Scouts

By WESLEY WARD
Correspondent

Antioch's boy's basketball team has experienced the same problem as the Chicago Bears the season, although without the same results. The Sequoits have a strong defense, but their floundering offense has yet to find its stride.

Antioch has not jumped out to the same 13-3 record as the Bears, but the Sequoits believe they can recover from a 5-11 record in time for the playoffs.

In its latest action, Antioch suffered a 62-51 defeat at the hands of Mundelein, in its first game back since Christmas break. Although the Sequoits held a two-point lead at halftime, Mundelein used a strong third quarter to open a lead and put the game out of reach.

"Mundelein was fresher than us down the stretch," said Antioch head coach Jeff Dresser. "We looked like we had just come off of a long layoff."

Brian Walsh poured in 17 points to lead the Sequoits. Allen Patin added 10 and Tom Woodruff eight in the losing effort.

The Sequoits then tried to recover from the loss when they faced Zion-Benton the following day. However, a much stronger Z-B squad ran out to a 73-33 pounding.

Patin led the Sequoits with nine points.

The team hopes to turn around its fortunes and win its first game of 2002 when it hosts Lake Forest Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m. Earlier in the year, Antioch defeated Lake Forest 44-40 in a defensive struggle. This Friday's contest should be a similar battle, with both teams playing similar styles of ball.

"I am expecting another close game with Lake Forest," said Dresser. "Whoever makes the fewest mistakes will win. Last time we played each other, we made some defensive mistakes and allowed them some open looks from outside. Fortunately they were not falling that night, but we need to stop that from happening this time round."

Defense has been Antioch's strength all season long. While the offense has struggled at times, the defense has often made the difference in favor of Antioch.

As the season begins to wind down, Antioch needs to bring its offense up to speed. Should everything come together come play-off time, anything can happen.

"We need to be more consistent on the offensive end of the floor," said Dresser. "We will continue to work hard and hopefully when everything comes together at the end of the season we will be a dangerous team."

And everything coming together at the right time could lead to a fairytale ending, just as it has for another Chicago hopeful.

Former Sequoits to be honored

Antioch Community High School will be inducting two former standout athletes into the school's Hall of Fame Jan. 25. The ceremonies will take place prior to the start of the Sequoits varsity boy's basketball game with Libertyville.

Being inducted are John Pregenzer and Mike Haviland. Pregenzer is a 1951 graduate of ACHS who went on to letter in basketball and baseball at Illinois Wesleyan University while playing on four CCIW championship teams.

Pregenzer went on to play eight years of professional baseball and was a member of the San Francisco Giants from 1963-64. He was voted into the Tacoma Pierce County Hall of Fame and elected as a Tacoma Pacific Coast League 25-year All-star. Pregenzer went on to coach basketball, baseball and football in Pierce County, State of Washington, at area high schools and junior high schools for 27 years. His baseball teams won 11 league championships and made five state tournament appearances in 21 years.

Meanwhile, Haviland is a 1955 graduate of ACHS. While at Antioch, Haviland was selected All-Conference and All-Area for two years and was an Honorable Mention All-State selection his senior year in baseball. In his four years playing baseball, the Sequoits claimed the conference title three times. Haviland was awarded a basketball scholarship from Marquette University, where he played from 1955-57. Haviland then went on to become Vice President of Plumbing for William Zeigler for 17 years before becoming owner of Carey Plumbing in 1974.

Other news and notes

Antioch High will also be hosting Rick Wier from Dynamic Sports on Thurs., Jan. 31 at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Wier will be presenting information for athletes interested in participating in collegiate athletics. His presentation will include information on academic eligibility as well as ways to market themselves to college coaches. Registration for the event is free. Any questions can be directed towards Antioch Athletic Director Steve Schoenfelder at 847-838-7630.

K of C free throw contest

It's that time of year again! The Knights of Columbus of Antioch will be sponsoring its Annual Youth Basketball Free throw Championship.

All boys and girls ages 10-14 are invited to participate in this local level of competition, to be held Sun., Jan. 20 at Antioch's St. Peter's School gymnasium.

Registration will start at 1:30 p.m. with competition to follow at 2.

The Knights of Columbus basketball free throw championship is sponsored annually with winners advancing through local, district, regional and state competitions. International champions are announced by the Knights of Columbus international headquarters based on scores from the state-level competitions.

All boys and girls will compete in their respective age groups. Last year, nearly 200,000 sharpshooters participated in over 3,500 local qualifiers.

All contestants on the local level are recognized for their involvement in the event. Participants are required to furnish proof of age along with written parental consent. For entry forms of further information, please contact Dave Chesonis at 847-395-8076.

Each contestant is allowed 15 free throw attempts. Successive rounds of five free-throw attempts settled ties apiece until a winner was declared.

The Knights of Columbus is an International Catholic Family Fraternal Service Organization with more than 1.6 million members in over 11,000 local councils. Last year, Knights donated 50 million volunteer hours $100 million to charitable and benevolent causes, including sponsoring projects to benefit their church, councils, communities, families and youths.

Ben Korom is nominated for national award

Ben Korom, an Antioch Community High School senior, has been nominated to compete in the national Principal's Leadership Award scholarship program (PLA), sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP). Herff Jones, Inc., funds the Principal's Leadership Award program.

Dr. James Love, principal of Antioch Community High School, announced the nomination, which placed Korom in the national competition. One hundred fifty national PLA winners will be chosen this spring to receive $1,000 college scholarships. Dr. Love stated:

"Ben is one of the most outstanding students leaders that I have met in my 26 years in education. Ben is an excellent student. He is ranked No. 4 in his class of 512. Ben is one of the most polite, sincere and respectful young persons that I have ever met. Ben treats everyone with the utmost respect. Ben is also genuine and sincere. Ben genuinely cares about people and acts upon this conviction by treating everyone as an important, valued human being."

Principals in high schools throughout the country could nominate one of their student leaders. Nominees were selected based on their leadership skills, participation in service organizations and clubs, achievements in the arts and sciences, employment experience, and academic record. They also were required to write an essay.

Love pointed out:

Ben is the president of the ACHS National Honor Society (NHS). His influence made this year's NHS Induction Ceremony a very meaningful event. Ben is a talented public speaker. His remarks made everyone—students, staff, parents and guests—feel important and included in the ceremony. Ben is also a drum major for the ACHS Marching Band. His leadership has had a very positive effect on our music program. Ben is enthusiastic and energetic. He communicates this enthusiasm to all the members of the band.

NASSP is the nation's largest school leadership organization with a membership reaching towards 40,000 middle level and high school principals and assistant principals. It administers the National Honor Society, the National Junior Honor Society, the National Association of Student Councils, and the National Association of Student Activity Advisers, collectively serving an additional 50,000 advisers and more than one million students. NASSP is also the sponsor of National Student Leadership Week.

LeMere dies after living good life

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

George LeMere, 88, father of former community development director Claude LeMere, died on Jan. 14 at the Winchester House in Libertyville after suffering for over a year from Alzheimer's disease.

"My father lived a good life," said Claude. "He was a good family man, devoted to his wife to whom he was married for 66 years."

George was born on Aug. 21, 1913 in Chicago. He was the son of the late George and Helen (Mack) LeMere. He married Ruthe Heater in Brookfield, on June 27, 1936.

"He was very patriotic," said Claude of his father. "He was proud to be an American. He was very red, white and blue."

George worked for 43 years as a steam and power engineer and retired to Tomahawk, Wis. in 1977. He moved to Antioch in 1998 where he enjoyed being a member of the Antioch Senior Center and fishing with Claude.

"Probably the most important thing my father taught me was how important my name is," said Claude. "He taught me to be proud of my name and never to do anything that would disgrace it."

George's survivors include his wife, Ruthe; his son, Claude; and one grandson, James (Jennifer) LeMere.

Those wishing to do so may make contributions to the Antioch Rescue Squad or the William E. Brook Memorial Wetlands Sanctuary and Entertainment Center in his memory.

County board primary races wide open

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Community Editor

The March 19 primary will see all 23 Lake County Board seats up for re-election, five incumbents not seeking re-election, and federally mandated redistricting adding new districts and changing the composition of others.

Winners of the primary election meet in the Nov. 5 general election. County board members also serve on the Lake County Forest Preserve District board.

A special filing period for county board candidates began Jan. 2 and ended at 5 p.m. on Jan. 9. It came about with December's controversial redistricting map and the legal challenges against it. Redistricting, done in 2001, was part of a state-mandated process in which voting districts are redrawn after the federal census.

Key incumbents who chose not to seek reelection were Republican Al Westerman in District 7, and Democrat Peggy Shorts in Waukegan District 9. Westerman had served two terms and was president of the forest preserve board.

County Board Chairperson Suzi Schmidt

(Dist.3-Lake Villa) said Westerman is building a new home on Russell Road near on the Illinois-Wisconsin border for himself and his wife Diana.

"I will really miss Al," said Schmidt. "He brought a lot of knowledge to the board. But these things happen all the time and boards change, especially when there's redistricting."

Others not seeking reelection are Dr. John Schulien, in District 13; Mary Beattie in District 16; and Robert Buhai in District 23.

Republican Donna-Mae Litwiler, a lifelong resident of Long Lake and a County Board Dist. 4 (old districting) from 1980 through 1986, collected about 70 signatures on a filing petition, but decided at 2 p.m. on the filing deadline day not to file in District 5, which would be her new district.

The only candidate in District 5 is Republican Bonnie Thomson Carter of Ingleside, which would have meant a two-person primary runoff.

In the newly created District 16 in the Round Lake area, Democrat Javier Carrillo of Round Lake Beach will wait until November to face the winner among five Republicans: Edward "Ed" Soto, Hainesville; Patrick Anderson, Round Lake Beach; Robert E. "Bob" Powers, Round Lake Beach; Don Newby, Round Lake; and Timothy S. Powell, Hainesville.

"Anybody's game in a new district like 16," said Schmidt. "But that's good. We need a new person out there."

District 9 in Waukegan is a main beneficiary of redistricting with its creation, literally of an Hispanic county board district. The three Democratic candidates are J.A. Tony Figueroa, Mary Ross Cunningham and Jose L. Zires.

In District 21, incumbent Martha Marks of Riverwoods will face two opponents on the Republican side of the primary, Ann Maine of Lincolnshire and Tom Adams of Green Oaks. The winner will be pitted against the winner of the Democratic primary in District 21, Gregory Jackson of Buffalo Grove or Pam Kerpec of Libertyville.

Schmidt said District 21 is "so changed (by redistricting) and virtually new. I don't really have a feel for it. Anything could happen."

In Schmidt's own District 3, she is the incumbent facing John Jay Bieschke of Lake Villa.

Schmidt said this week that she planned to file petitions against Bieschke, the co-owner of an Antioch marina, on Wednesday. Schmidt said she doubts that Bieschke has "even eight good signatures" of the 40 needed on his petition.

She also alleges that Bieschke lives in Dist. 1, and handed in photocopied signatures.

Bieschke has been quoted in other media accounts saying that his filing petition is in good order and he doesn't need to live in District 3 unless he's the county board representative there.

African American program running at Greenbelt Feb. 3

The public is invited to help celebrate African American culture at the Lake County Forest Preserves' 19th annual Profiles in Excellence program, on Sunday, Feb. 3, from 2-5 p.m., at the Greenbelt Cultural Center near North Chicago and Waukegan.

The Profiles in Excellence program works to improve the quality of life and the self-esteem of children and families in the African American community through a greater appreciation of their heritage and achievements. The program is free of charge and open to all ages.

This year's program recognizes outstanding achievements of African Americans in the media with featured presenters Harry Porterfield of ABC Channel 7 News, and Effie Rolfe of WGCI Radio.

A 28-year veteran of the television news industry, Porterfield is a host of ABC Channel 7 News' popular special human-interest feature "Someone You Should Know". He joined the Channel 7 news team in 1985 after 21 years as a WBBM Channel 2 anchor and host of the Emmy award-winning public affairs series "Channel Two the People." Porterfield has been recognized through numerous awards and honors, including 40 Emmy awards for his "Channel Two the People" series and one Columbia Dupont Journalism Award for his "Someone You Should Know" program.

Effie Rolfe is best known in the Chicago area as host of the Midday Show airing weekdays on Gospel Radio AM 1390. She can also be heard on Sunday mornings on WGCI Radio FM 107.5. Rolfe will share information from her more than 13 years of on-air broadcasting experience.

As part of the Profiles in Excellence program, North Chicago High School students will present a brief history of African Americans in the media, and Jefferson Middle School and Waukegan High School students will present a skit entitled "Someone You Admire."

The Mt. Sinai Baptist Church choir, and popular singer/songwriter, Rob Hunter, will provide entertainment. Free refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

The Greenbelt Cultural Center is located at 1215 Green Bay Rd., on the east side of Green Bay Road (Route 131) and south of Belvidere Road (Route 120). For additional information about Profiles in Excellence, call 847-689-1600.

Churchill remains on ballot in 62nd

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Bob Churchill has successfully defeated the challenge by one of his opponents, Attorney Al Wysocki, to have his name removed from the ballot for State Representative in the newly formed 62nd State Legislative District of north central Lake County.

Wysocki had filed a petition claiming Churchill had filed a statement of economic interests that was inappropriate.

"When I filed my objection to my opponent's petition I did so in light of what I feel to be an obligation to follow the rules. Making a mistake on the statement on the state of economic interest is, in my mind, a very serious issue because it involves public disclosure and openness with the people whom one would hope to serve," said Wysocki.

The local Electoral Board consisting of the State's Attorney, County Clerk and the Clerk of the Circuit Court voted 3-0 to disallow Wysocki's challenge.

"I disagree with the findings of the commission and I will thoughtfully weigh the possibility of appeal in light of the significant financial burden it will place on my campaign," said Wysocki.

Churchill said he was happy with the board's decision and said Wysocki's challenge had no merit.

"Everybody chooses how they want to campaign. I have no objection to what he did. If I was in his position I'd probably want me off of the ballot, too," said Churchill.

Churchill is a veteran Republican legislator from the 61st district.

The other announced candidate for the 62nd district is Grayslake businessman Ed Walters.

The new district runs from Gurnee west to the Fox-Lake Ingleside area, and consists of most of the greater Round Lake area, Grayslake, portions of Warren Township, Third Lake, Hainesville and parts of Lake Villa Township.

Carmel 'Toasts Broadway' with its annual Street Scenes

BY SHANNON FRICILONE
Staff Reporter

When people think of entertainment, they usually think of the great shows on Broadway. Area residence can experience the music and excitement of Broadway without going all the way to New York at Carmel High School's annual Street Scenes on Feb. 8 and 9.

"We welcome all to Street Scenes," said Street Scenes General Chair Couple Bob and Arvidson. "But everyone must be prepared to have the time of their lives."

This year the public will be able to stroll down Broadway, see the 42nd Street under-studies and tour a Broadway bazaar.

"We think that this is going to be one of the best Street Scenes yet," said the Arvidson's. "Through skits and other forms of entertainment, the two-day celebration to 'Toast Broadway' will provide enjoyment for all to experience."

Attendees of the program may see the Phantom, a Blue Moon or they can stop in at the T-Bird Lounge.

Plan to arrive hungry because the choice of food is endless. Some of the featured places to grab a bite are Das Brat Haus, The Irish Pub and the fifth Street Sandwich Shop.

At the very center of the Carmel Street Scenes is the annual student show, the "Curly-Girly, Hurly-Burly" Revue, celebrating "The Very Best Dream."

According to the Arvidson's, through song and dance, the students will be sure to get your heart pounding with effort they put into each and every show. We want everyone to enjoy themselves," they said. "We want Carmel High School to keep its top-notch teachers and outstanding curriculum. We can only do this with the help of over 900 volunteers and the entire student body."

Every year volunteers turn Carmel's classrooms into cabarets, nightclubs, restaurants, fast food places and even a Las-Vegas-style gaming parlor where people can forget about the winter.

"We know that thousands of Cook, Lake and McHenry county residents attend the February event to celebrate the fact that in only a few short months, Spring will arrive in the Chicago area," commented Bob Arvidson.

Street Scenes has been a part of the Carmel tradition for 28 years.

"Local communities such as Libertyville, Lake Zurich, Waukegan, Wadsworth, Vernon Hills, Elia Township, Mundelein and Grayslake, as well as many local businesses are represented in the various showrooms," said the Arvidson's. "That is what makes Street Scenes a success."

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. each evening and stay open until it is time for an early breakfast.

On-campus parking is limited, but additional parking will be made available at a number of Mundelein businesses lining Hawley Street. Free shuttles between the school and the lots operate all evening. Guests who agree to be a designated driver for the evening will get a wristband affording them free soft drinks for the evening.

Admission is $20 per person at the door or $17.50 in advance. All guests must be 21-years-old or over.

Carmel High School is located on Route 176 on the eastern edge of Mundelein between Milwaukee Avenue (Route 21) and Route 45.

Tickets are available at the door, through any Carmel student or by calling 847-566-3000.

Disclosure workshop is Saturday

A campaign disclosure workshop can be viewed on Saturday, Jan. 19, at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

The workshop will be simultaneously broadcast at 10 a.m. to 29 locations across the state. Co-sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Elections and Lake County Clerk's office, the broadcast can be viewed at the CLC auditorium, Room C-003, 19351 W. Washington St.

County Clerk Willard Helander said "The workshop will be geared to the filing requirements of candidates and political committees, and will focus on recent changes to the Campaign Disclosure Act and rules and regulations."

"This presentation will be very helpful to campaign groups and candidates running for office in the 2002 General Election," Helander added. "State Board of Elections staff will provide a detailed explanation of how to complete reporting forms, followed by a question and answer period."

Helander noted that candidate and political action committees are responsible for a thorough understanding of disclosure filing requirements and deadlines for reporting. The workshop will last approximately two hours. Further information may be obtained by calling the Lake County Clerk's Office at 847-377-2313, or the State Board of Elections at 217-782-1543.

Farm bureau sets blood drive Jan. 23

The Lake County Farm Bureau is sponsoring a blood drive Wednesday, Jan. 23 from noon-6 p.m. at the Farm Bureau office, 70 U.S. Hwy. 45, Grayslake.

Due to the Sept. 11 tragedy, we were forced to move our originally scheduled drive because of the many blood drives set up throughout the U.S.

December and January are typically slow months for blood donations, but extremely important months to have large supplies of blood on hand. "Victims of the Sept. 11 attack will continue to need transfusions during the coming months. Donating blood during our January drive will ensure those victims will continue on the road to recovery," says Gregory Koeppen, Farm Bureau Public Information Director.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

Larson named All-American

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

Former Carmel player and Antioch native Luke Larson, in his first year at downstate Quincy University, was named to the NCAA Div. II Mid-Major All-America team.

"I was ecstatic after I found out," said Larson. "I called everyone."

One of the people he called was his former coach at Carmel, Andy Bitto.

"I was surprised because he did it as a freshman," said Bitto. "I thought he would do it eventually, just not this soon."

As a true freshman, Larson tallied 10 sacks in just seven games, after his season was cut short due to a concussion and a neck stinger.

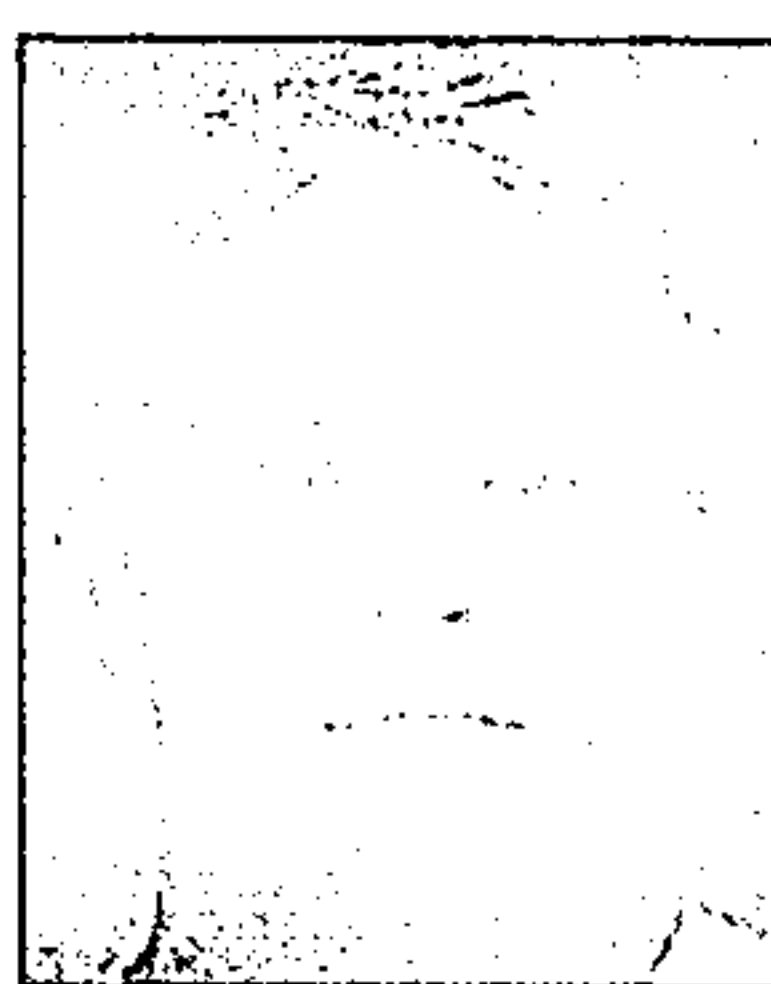

Larson's total of 10 sacks was just one short of the school record, and he set the school's single-game record of five sacks.

"It was pretty hard to miss the rest of the season," said Larson. "But I'm fully recovered now and I'll be ready for next year."

As for next year, Larson's hopes are high. "I want to break the single-season sack record," said Larson. "I also want to re-break the single game record."

Quincy head coach Bill Terlisner felt that were it not for the injury, Larson would have broken the record as a freshman.

"He made an instant impact this year," said Terlisner. "I expect better things down the road. Once he learns technique, the sky's the limit."

Larson

Bitto is also optimistic of Larson's future.

"He's going to fill out eventually," said Bitto. "He's always hustled hard and he'll just get better and better."

Unfortunately for Larson, while he was enjoying his success at Quincy, he missed out on Carmel's record-setting season, only catching the 34-21 playoff win over Normal Community.

"I was pretty excited for Carmel, they had a pretty amazing year," said Larson. "A lot of them were my teammates and are really good friends."

Three of his former teammates, Mike Zeifert, Josh Bruenning and Matt Roe are considering attending Quincy in the fall.

"They all have a good work ethic," said Larson, who will host the trio on an official visit on Jan. 25. "We'll see what happens on the visit."

Stretch run awaits Lancers

After a tough first half of the season, The College of Lake County men's basketball teams season is looking to make up ground. A brutal schedule against non-conference opponents in the season's first half is partly to blame for the teams 5-12 record. However, the second half of the season will be played against more evenly matched conference teams and should bring better results.

"Once we get into conference play our competition should be more equal," said head coach Shawn Chism. "We should be able to pull out a lot more victories in the conference."

One of the main items worked on in practice for CLC will be conditioning. The team will be without the services of their leading rebounder Simon Morrison for the rest of the year, and the roster has been drained to nine players total.

"It's going to tough with our style of play," said Chism. "We like to run as much as we can and it's going to make it tough with so little players."

According to Chism, the play of and leadership of freshman Tyran Jackson has helped in keeping the team moving in the right direction.

"If your asking who the leader of this team is, it's got to be Tyran (Jackson)," said Chism. CLC traveled to Oakton Community College where they fell 56-49. Joe Maitland contributed 14 points and seven rebounds in the losing effort.

The Lancers have two away contests at McHenry Jan. 17 and Waubesa Jan. 22. The Lancer women's team precedes both games, which tip-off at 7:15 p.m.—Joe Pruski

Will Democrats be 'wild card' force?

For more than a decade, voters have dealt with growth and development problems in an ambivalent manner. They have put into office a county board majority interested in controlling growth, protection of the environment and adding to public open space holdings. At the same time, for the most part, voters have elected pro-growth village officials who run without party label, who through annexation and zoning policies have perpetuated the sprawl, over-crowded schools and highway gridlock that have marked Lake County since the mid-'80s.

This dichotomy has produced predictable and inevitable clashes. Strangely, there is a perception that county government is responsible for the byproducts of unbridled growth. With the exception of both branches of local government facing up to correction of flooding and stormwater problems, sprawl is viewed as a county problem when in fact municipal government controls 90 percent of the growth.

This divergence of public opinion comes into focus again as another Lake County Board election begins to unfold. A record number of candidates—57 in all, including 23 Democrats—has filed for 23 openings for nomination in the March 19 primary. As a practical political matter, the primary is THE election, as indeed it will be for seven candidates who are running unopposed. For the other 50, barring any withdrawals, party strength will dictate new board members in March, meaning that Democrats will be elected in Waukegan and Highland Park and Republicans undoubtedly will be elected elsewhere. Yes, there will be a handful of partisan clashes in November for County Board seats, somewhat of a novelty but anticipated with relish.

How the Lake County Board makeup shakes out, of course, will have bearing on the long-standing debate over the pace of urbanization. For 10 years, so-called Republican independents have sought to put the brakes on growth and development in contrast to GOP "regulars" who have allied with the building industry and growth activists in the ranks of municipal leaders.

Somewhat of a "wild card" in both the March 19 primary and November general election will be the posture toward growth and development taken by Democrat candidates. Twenty-three Democrats competing for County Board seats is an all-time high. Are they merely looking for jobs or do they have a philosophic vent?

As indicated, the sorting out period will be short, maybe too short for comfort. But a lot of what happens in the next eight weeks will have a big bearing on how Lake County addresses urbanization for the remainder of the '00s decade.

Mite makes right in Volo

In the next few weeks, a handful of voters in the tiny Village of Volo will be lobbied intensely to determine the future of the controversial power plant being sought for construction on farm land adjacent to Route 12.

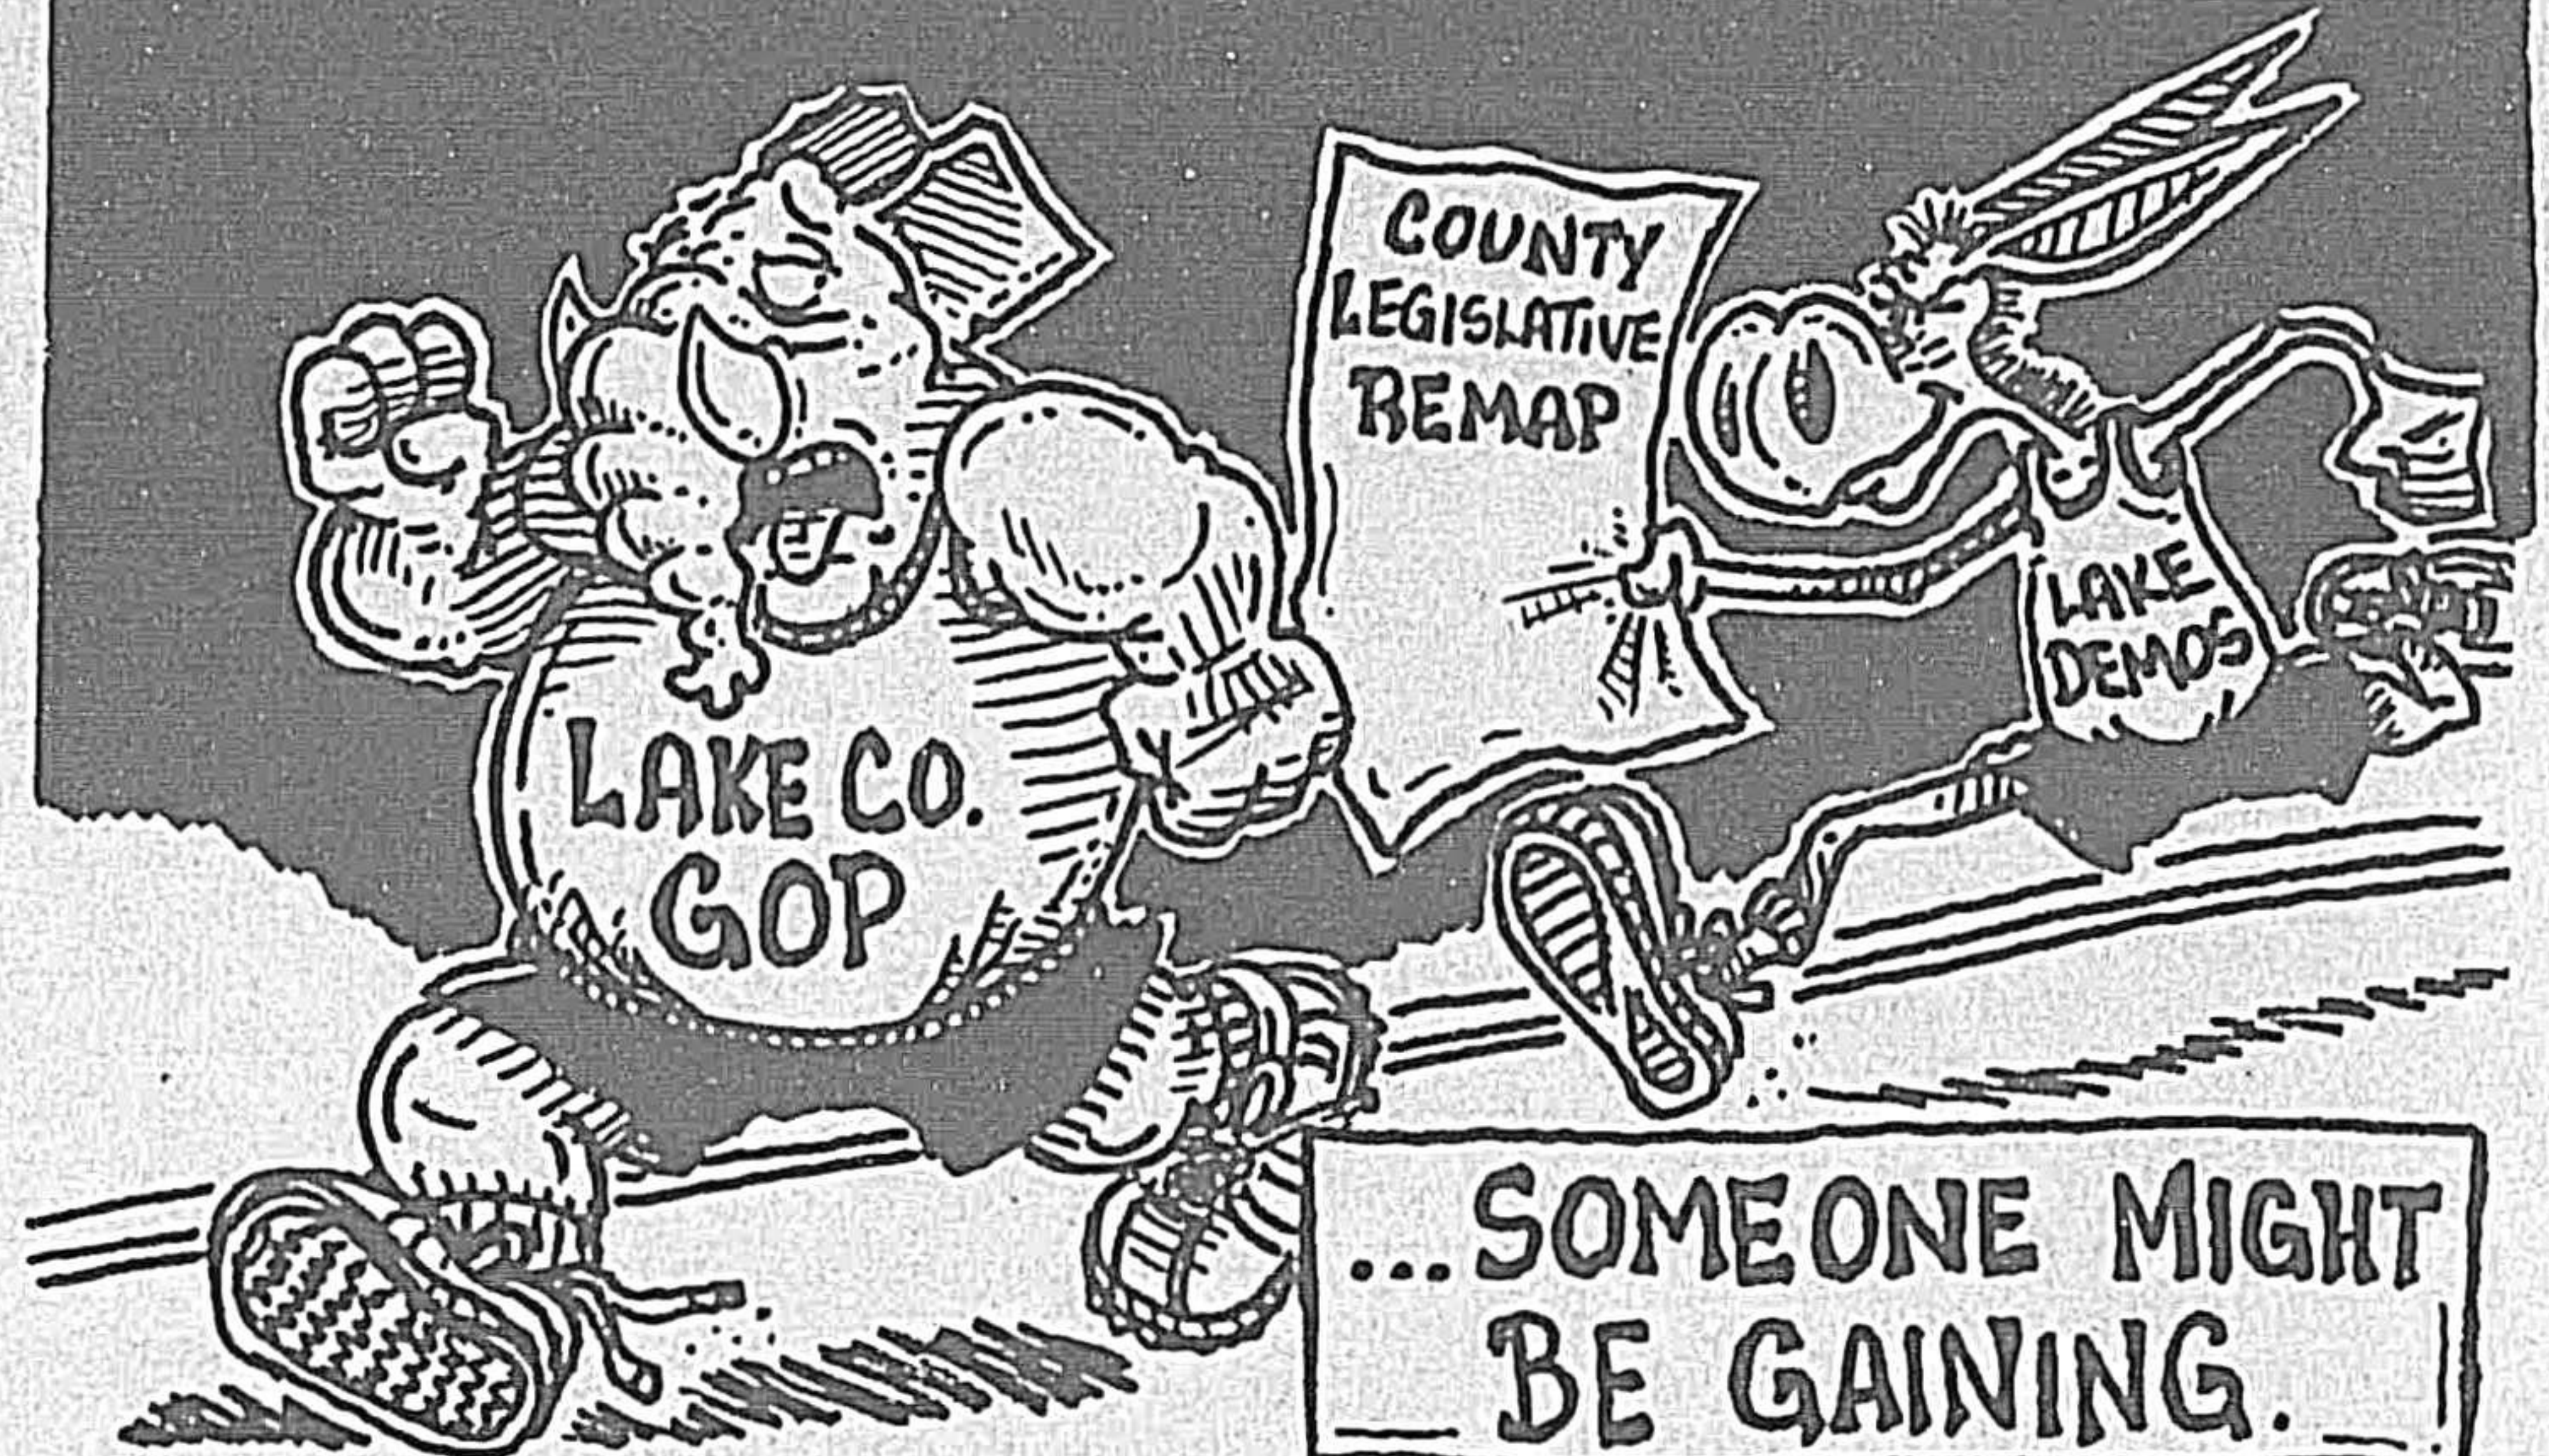

Thirty-eight residents, about 10 shy of the list of eligible voters, signed a petition to place the power plant question on the March 19 ballot in the form of an advisory referendum.

Cynics scoff that advisory referendums are an exercise in futility, but in Volo, where all the voters are neighbors with face-to-face relationships, the voter outcome will be significant. Mayor Burnell Russell, a staunch supporter of the power plant proposal who once opposed the advisory ballot, now thinks it's a "good thing."

At stake is a 560-mega watt capacity system that would run around-the-clock 365 days a year producing electrical energy that a Houston-based company would sell to the open market. There isn't a whole lot to be gained for the Volo community other than about 20 jobs and some real estate tax.

Residents will have their say in the advisory referendum, but the ultimate decision rests on a zoning question to be decided by six village trustees. The Volo question is a case where mite makes right, whatever the outcome.

NEVER LOOK BACK..

VIEWPOINT

G.L.A.D. tidings energize 53 brigade

GALENA, IL—News flash. Officers of Galena G.L.A.D. (Galena Leads Alternative Direction) announced that 100 percent of the membership has signed a petition calling for construction of the Route 53 extension.

"As northern Illinois commuters, we're sick and tired of the daily gridlock on Routes 12, 45, 120 and 83. We think Route 53 is the only answer. It has to be built," declared a GLAD spokesman, adding that membership in the militant transportation organization has increased 100 percent in the past two months. Neutral observers in Jo Davies County said GLAD was organized with six road-weary founders.

Jack Martin, patron of Route 53 and organizer of Citizens to Protect Quality of Life Through Better Transportation (CPQLTBT), was jubilant over the GLAD decision. With a glint in his eyes, Martin snapped his fingers and shouted, "By George, the Route 53 message is getting out." Onlookers wondered if he was referring to Gov. George Ryan or just employing a trite expression of exultation.

Whatever. Martin announced a new "total support" figure for Route 53, the addition of GLAD support taking the recently announced CPQLTBT figure of 952,944 to 952,956.

Martin has directed CPQLTBT operatives to "pour it on" in adding to the list of northern Illinois communities in the "strong public support" column. The Route 53 support team reported unofficially that they expect "total support" to exceed one million after canvassing the Quad Cities and Quincy.

Wild kingdom

Over the years, Grant Township Highway Commissioner Jack Kiesgen and his staff have handled blizzards, floods and illegal roadside littering in stride. What has them stepping lively these days in the west Lake County sector is an invasion of beavers. Kiesgen said the furry denizens can clog up a culvert overnight. They knock down trees in waterways faster than a chainsaw brigade.

In Lake Bluff, residents are holding community meetings on how to cope with coyotes. Packs swoop out of the ravines and wooded areas to prey on small animals and pets. In some neighborhoods, residents don't let dogs run alone in their yards anymore.

Bears breakout

For many weeks, the Bears looked like they were luckier than good. Hey, nothing wrong with that. Now the 13-3 contenders have proved that they are good, too. As good as the Super Bowl Bears of '86? We'll see. The '02 squad is less flamboyant, compared to members of the last winning contingent. Many of them were part of the Lake County community—Coach Mike Ditka (Arbor Vista and Bannockburn), Coach Dick Stanfel (Grayslake), "Refrigerator" Perry (Mundelein), Kevin Butler (Mundelein) and Emery Moorehead (Gurnee). The current Bears crew is virtually invisible, except on the field.

Following tradition

Former State Rep. Andrea Moore of Libertyville is following a Lake County tradition in assuming the No. 2 post in the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources. She is the fourth Lake Countian to have a high profile post in conservation and natural resources. William J. Stratton, Ingleside was a Depression era conservation head. The late Jim McMillan of Antioch served as conservation chief in the administration of Gov. Otto Kern. Tony Dean, current mayor of Long Grove, headed up conservation for Gov. Dan Walker. Besides her legislative experience, Moore earned plaudits for conservation and preservation as president of the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

Silence is golden— but citizen advocates must speak out

We have all heard the proverb "silence is golden," and it is true that keeping silent can rarely get anyone in trouble when a "big mouth can," and nobody likes a "gabber."

But, silence can be dangerous, too. It too often means consent when disagreement may be more appropriate and responsible. It is always best to disagree without being disagreeable, but there are even times when being "offensive" may be the only tactic to disarm the politically powerful.

One thing that many public officials in powerful policy positions

SEEING
IT THROUGH
John S. Matijevich

relish is making decisions without public controversy. In other words, they like it when everyone remains silent, no matter what they do.

When citizens feel that decisions are being made that are not in their best interests they should not remain silent. Many worry that, if they speak out, they will put their foot in their mouth. Not to worry. If they remain silent, they should worry more about the many "feet" that will be trampled on their rights as citizens and their way of life.

Let's take a look at some local issues. For starters, how about peaker power plants? There has been a glut of attempts by the electric power industry to cite peak-load power plants in Lake County.

I am convinced that if it were not for the many citizens who "wouldn't keep still and silent," by now we would have a half dozen power plants sited in Lake County.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reform needed

The Illinois political system needs reform. Senator Patrick O'Malley's opponents in the Republican primary have supported Governor George Ryan and his agenda. Our state budget, once running surpluses, is now in deficit.

O'Malley has had the courage to challenge the Ryan agenda. Senator O'Malley fought the Ryan tax increases, supported reforms that would stop handing gambling licenses to political contributors, and sponsored tough new ethics legislation. Not only have both of his opponents done nothing to challenge Governor Ryan's abuses, but they have called him a good Governor.

Illinois needs the opposite of George Ryan if we are going to reform our state.

Margaret D. Benoit
Vernon Hills

Unaffordable tax

"Big Hollow Elementary District 38 Board seeks 74 cents per $100 of assessed value, an increase of up to $1,800 a year on a home valued at $210,000."

I'm sure there is no doubt our school district needs an influx of money, but the amount that our property taxes would increase under this proposal is frightening.

I live in the Oaks of the Hollow neighborhood in Fox Lake. We are already paying thousands of dollars more in taxes than taxpayers in comparable homes in our area. As a neighborhood, we have been filing protests for a couple of years and have yet to see any resolution. If this increase passes, we will all be paying well into the five digits for our property taxes. Not only is it difficult to afford these levels, but it also makes it next to impossible to ever sell property. With tax increases as high as the board is suggesting, I just might have to sell. I can't afford it. I understand that there will be large increases in the student population every year for the foreseeable future.

Joe Popp
Fox Lake

Tired of threats

Now come all the school referendums and along with this comes the threats from the school boards of all the program cuts that will happen if the referendums don't pass.

I am very tired of the threats from the school boards every time they want to raise our taxes. These threats are terrorism tactics made to scare us into submission to vote for the referendums.

I remember when Antioch High School went for the first time with a referendum to build a new high school. We were told there was no way the old high school could be added on to. However, the referendum failed and lo and behold they put an addition on to the old high school.

As long as we are stupid enough to keep voting to raise our property taxes, Springfield will never change the way schools are funded, and schools will never learn to live within their budgets.

The only way to make Springfield find a better way to fund schools, and schools to live within their budgets will be to VOTE NO for any and all school referendums. As hard as it might be to vote no, this is what must be done.

I urge everyone to request (freedom in information act) from his or her school a copy of the teacher's service record, a copy of the teacher's service record, a list of all administrators' salaries and all benefits, a copy of the teacher's union contract with the school, and a copy of expenditures and revenues for the current school year. These items will help you to have a better understanding of just where your tax dollars are going.

With the economy in the shape it is right now I find it absolutely ridiculous to even think about asking people to raise their taxes.

Kathleen L. Mahr
Antioch

Letters welcome

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain a home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

Link, Simonian trade jibes at lunch debate

It was a political debate. Republican vs. Democrat. Man vs. woman. And the audience loved the show.

State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills), Lake County Democratic chairman, shared the podium with Antoniette "Ant" Simonian, executive director of the Lake County Republican Federation, at a political luncheon sponsored by Green Oaks-Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce at Crowne Place-Chicago/North Shore, Mundelein.

Link took full advantage to jibe Simonian about Democratic gains in the past and the potential for future inroads with the benefits of favorable redistricting. Quick witted and tart-tongued, Simonian outlined avenues the GOP will take to sweep county offices in the November election and elect a GOP U.S. Senator and governor.

Chamber members declared the "debate" a draw.

Central location

State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington) chose a central site in the remapped 52nd District to kick off his campaign for re-election Saturday, Jan. 19. Beaubien was in Lakemoor, McHenry County, for the campaign launch. Approximately half of the new-look district lies in McHenry County.

Political tea

The Women's Republican Club of the Tenth Congressional District will hold its annual meeting and membership tea featuring U.S. Congressman Mark Kirk, at 1 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 21, at the Adam Mark Hotel, 2875 N. Milwaukee Ave., Northbrook. Kirk will present a legislative update and answer questions on national issues. All are welcome. For more information and reservations call Suzy Rauch, 847-446-6518.

Beaubien:

Westerman:
Laments being

Quick start

Kevin Schoudel, a Republican newcomer, wasted no time in jump-starting his campaign for a County Board nomination from District 1 (Antioch). He held a fundraiser Jan. 9, the final day for filing for the March 19 primary. Schoudel is out to unseat incumbent Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch).

Dirty tricks

Forest Preserve President Al Westerman lamented action taken by Wauconda officials accepting a strip donation for a 30 foot easement surrounding the Roney Farm, which has been coveted for development for years. The transaction effectively stops the Forest Preserve District from connecting Lakewood and Singing Hills preserves with a trail system because it prevents continuity. "I thought those kind of tactics were part of the past," Westerman opined.

Political families

With an assist from retired newsman Ed Nash, Party Lines is able to add to the list of father-son and father-daughter successions in Lake County politics. Public service runs deep in these families: Sabonjian, father six-time mayor of Waukegan and son Bob, a member of the Lake County Board; Recorder of Deeds Mary Ellen Vanderventer, daughter of former Waukegan Mayor Bill Durkin; Zion Supervisor Sherry Ditzig, daughter of former County Board Rep. Bob Neal, who also served as Regional Transportation Authority trustee; Avon Township Supervisor Russ Christian carries on the tradition of his late father, Stanley, sheriff, and a brother, Richard, now deceased who was an associate judge. Current County Treasurer Robert "Bob" Skidmore's father was a county official three decades ago. Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, North Chicago) are familiar with the Fitzgerald name with Charles IV currently serving as supervisor, a position once held by his father, Charles III.

If we've overlooked some other political dynasties, please send information along. Party Lines will be happy to add to the list of Lake County political families.

Business sense

If voters want more business sense on the Lake County Board, Democrat Marc Brogan says, "I'm your man." Running in a mostly Gurnee district, Brogan is positioning his candidacy as combining both private business and public sector experience, gained from his background in the sports-recreation field.

Double duty

James "Jim" Oberwels was able to check out the site of a new ice cream store in Lake Zurich while scouting out support in Lake County in his bid for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate. Oberwels, synonymous with dairy products and ice cream in the western suburbs for more than 70 years, now is a name in political news. The Lake Zurich location, the 24th, is due to open in April, too late for the primary, but just in time for a new ice cream season.

The geniuses who shaped our world

Who were the most influential people of the last 1,000 years? Which movers and shakers did the most to shape our world? Bill Gates? Princess Diana? The Beatles? Abraham Lincoln? Walt Disney? Ronald Reagan? Elvis?

No, bumpy, none of the above, although they all were ranked in the top 100 in last week's cable television "Biography of the Millennium" feature.

It was a fascinating four-hour show, and an ambitious undertaking. The Arts & Entertainment network polled more than 360 journalists, scholars and political leaders. Those voting included statesman Henry Kissinger, movie maker Steven Spielberg and actor Robin Williams. (Spielberg himself was ranked 91st.)

What a difference one life can make. The countdown all the way from 100 became especially fascinating when it narrowed down the top 10. And the biggest surprise of all was the selection of No. 1, a person much lesser known than such heavyweights of history as:

No. 10. Galilei Galileo, 17th century Italian astronomer and physicist who greatly enlarged man's vision and conception of the universe.

9. Nicholas Copernicus, 16th century Polish astronomer, whose beliefs concerning the galaxy were the foundation of modern astronomy.

8. Albert Einstein, 20th century American physicist, a high school dropout who became one of the fathers of the nuclear age. His relativity theory revolutionized scientific thought with new conceptions of time, space, math, motion and gravitation.

7. Karl Marx, 19th century German social philosopher; the Father of Communism, a movement billions of people lived under; but it was a utopian idea that became an abject failure.

6. Christopher Columbus, 15th century Italian navigator and explorer who spread the culture of Europe to America, changing the course of history. His voyages led to enduring links between the Eastern and Western hemispheres.

5. William Shakespeare, 17th century English dramatist and poet, the world's most popular author. Few writers had such a subtle grasp of the human heart and no others'

Another controversial local issue is the proposed extension of Route 53 as a tollway. The proponents would have you believe that building another tollway in Lake County will solve all of our traffic congestion problems. It will not, and no one can honestly say how the state can afford to pursue the over $1 billion dollar project at the expense of lesser cost projects that can make a more immediate dent to the traffic problems.

It would take volumes to gather the pros and cons of the Route 53 tollway issue. The point I make here, though, is that many citizens took it upon themselves to stand up and speak out. If ever an issue deserved to be controversial it is the Route 53 matter. Many special interests have been pushing for its development and they have as their allies some heavy hitters in government positions using public monies to foster their plays have been produced so many times and read so widely in so many countries.

4. Charles Darwin, 19th century English naturalist. Darwinism, his controversial concept of evolution, flew into the face of the Bible and dethroned man from his central place in the history of the earth.

3. Martin Luther, 16th century German friar. His Protestant Reformation theorized that only by faith can man reach salvation; not by ceremony but only through devotion to God and his mercy.

2. Isaac Newton, 18th century English scientist who formulated the law of gravitation. Had it not been for Newton, the Wright Brothers never would have gotten off the ground. His mechanics of gravitation eventually would make science accessible to everyone.

1. Johann Gutenberg, 15th century German inventor of the printing press, the first European to print with movable metal type. His production in 1455 of 200 copies of the Holy Bible marked a turning point in our civilization and began the creation of a literate middle class.

Ever hear of Gutenberg? Without his invention none of the writings of the others in the top 100, including Shakespeare's, could have been so universally disseminated.

biased positions.

The public has spoken out on other issues like the North Shore Sanitary District's efforts to cite a sludge plant at Waukegan's lakefront, the push for a major airport at Peotone, extending runways at O'Hare Airport, school funding shortfalls, and many more.

Citizen advocacy is more important today than ever before. You are fighting special interests who shouldn't have more clout than you, but, as a practical matter, they do.

I remember the time when the list of lobbyists in Springfield was a few pages long. There are many, many of them now and most of them aren't for you.

So, when someone tries to tell you that "silence is golden," give them a "yes, but" answer. We can't be silent when those who "are making the noises" aren't speaking out for us. Make them listen to you—for a change.

SEEING

The opposition to these power plants hasn't come from the public officials, but from the citizens who are concerned that their communities maintain a healthy and safe environment.

It is particularly troubling that some public officials rhetorically oppose the peaker plant bombardment, but clam up when specific power plant proposals are being processed. Again, I hail the citizenry who have belittled their opposition so loudly that the public policy makers have been "following in line."

Good values and discussion are the solution

Hi Dr. Singer,

My daughter is 13 and up until now we have tried to be very involved in her choices of music and other entertainment. We have been able to do that well, until recently. What is different now is that she has a lot of friends, all of a sudden, and they all trade CD's and movies and it is difficult for us to review everything she is being exposed to. If we did that, it could take hours of time and that would not be practical because by the time we got done reviewing one stack, a whole new one would be there anyway. We haven't really seen anything to be worried about yet, but we want to keep checking. We trust our daughter, we like her friends and we have brought her up with what we consider to be good morals and values, but we also feel the need to do this and find that we are fighting a losing battle. Do you have any thoughts on this? H.T.

PARENT'S PLACE

Hi H.T.,

I think the most important two things you have said here is that you trust your daughter and that you have raised her with good morals and values. When all is said and done, raising them with good morals and values is the very most important foundation issue. Kids are going to be presented with all kinds of things in their lives, both good and bad.

It would be physically and mentally impossible for parents to be able to review each and every decision a teenage child needs to make, especially once they start getting older. If something comes to your attention that is clearly a bad decision on your child's part, I think it needs to be addressed, but to try and spend hours on reviewing every last little detail is not only not a good use of your time, but as you said impossible and not always necessary.

I think the time is better spent continuing teaching those good morals and values and talking to your child about those things he or she is exposed to. Additionally, try and tell a 13 year old what he or she absolutely cannot be interested in and you have just found a sure-fire way to get him or her interested in that very thing, just by your protest. After all, at that age, if mom and dad don't like it, it must be cool!

Now, obviously, if you see your "happy go lucky" teenager all of a sudden become morose and start listening to songs with death themes in them, that needs to be taken seriously and addressed immediately with counseling or emergency services, if necessary. This is not the same thing as a normal teen who is happy and listening to music that might not suit your tastes. When I was a teenager, I listened to lots of things that could have been considered bad influences and I turned out better than fine. I firmly believe that this was because my parents spent a lot of time letting me know what their morals and values and beliefs were and are. Even when I was rebelling, those values were very obvious in me. I often tell parents that sharing those beliefs with your kids is of utmost importance. And not just once. You don't need to lecture or hammer it home. Just live it, talk about it, discuss it and be a good example.

Unfortunately, some parents either figure kids don't want to hear it or don't need to hear it. Believe me they do want to hear it and need to hear it. If you don't give them something to believe in, someone else will and it might not be the messages you would choose for them. Other parents live a bad example and then wonder why their kids are into bad things. That can only be solved by the parent actively changing his or her act and then communicating that to the child. Thankfully, for your daughter, you don't sound like you are doing either of these.

So, if your child is normal, happy and seems well-adjusted but is just listening to some stuff that isn't quite your taste, sit down with her and find out what she finds so good about it. Talk to her about it and remind her of how it differs from your morals, values and belief. You may be amazed to know that she feels the same way. I remember listening to some songs in High School that I would sing along to, but there were certain parts that I would stop singing with because I didn't believe in what the words were saying. It made me actually feel guilty to sing the words, so I didn't, at 16 years old. I'm sure many kids see and recognize the bad stuff and can say that even though they like the music, they don't agree with the message. Your daughter may be the same, but you can't find out until you talk to her. Discuss, impart values and then trust unless you see something really "out of whack" or that looks dangerous to you.

I'm glad to hear that your daughter has a lot of friends. That's great!

A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. ## Payton's jersey available

Sports fans, listen up! With the great fortunes the Chicago Bears have been experiencing this season, how about an official game jersey, among other Bears memorabilia?

Look no further than Game Time Promotions, Inc.

The St. Charles-based company, which manufactures just about any sports item imaginable, has unveiled an authentic Walter Payton home game jersey from the 1985 season, Payton's last as a Chicago Bear.

Game Time Promotions Owner and President Roger Stanton said his company is only making 3,400 authentic Payton jerseys.

"Everything is moving fast, with the Bears doing so well," said Stanton. "I'm quite certain that we'll sell out of these fairly quickly. What's so special about the authentic Payton jersey is that Wilson Sporting Goods went back and manufactured it (the jersey) to the exact specs that Walter wore in 1985."

Plus, Payton only wore Wilson products and the authentic jersey is only available in size 42, the size he wore during his career as a Bear. Wilson, of course, is also the official game ball of the NFL.

Reebok also got the license to remake Payton's jersey but it never materialized because Payton only wore Wilson.

There are also Payton replica jerseys available, among numerous other Payton items, from denim shirts to helmets to leather notebooks with memo pads and key chains with Payton's name and number 34.

Game Time Promotions is also close to unveiling crew and hooded Payton sweat-shirts.

"I was spirited by my daughter to manufacture the hooded sweat-shirt," said Stanton.

The sweatshirt will be gray-based. Payton's name will be on the front in stick-on lettering. Underneath his name will be a navy oval with an orange No. 34. 'Sweetness' will also be labeled towards the bottom of the garment.

Game Time, in cooperation with Wilson, has also manufactured an official NFL leather football, with a picture of 'Sweetness', his all-time rushing yards and date of his Hall of Fame induction inscribed.

The football was specially made under the guidance of Walter's wife, Connie Payton. Furthermore, each ball represents one yard of Walter's all-time rushing record of 16,726 yards.

"We've been doing very well with the football—we've sold close to 3,000 so far," said Stanton.

Of course, Connie Payton got the ball commemorating Walter's 34th yard, representing, of course, his number.

Anyone interested in purchasing a Payton jersey football or any other Bears or sports memorabilia can do so by calling Game Time Promotions toll free at 866-729-8663.

The authentic 1985 Walter Payton game jersey is available through Game Time Promotions.

News and Notes

Five members of the 1952 Hebron Green Giants state championship basketball team will be on hand Jan. 26 from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. at Knuth's Sport and Office Outfitters on the Woodstock Town Square to sign copies of the book, Once There Were Giants.

Fifty years ago, Woodstock Town Square was the site of a wild celebration as the Hebron caravan made its way from Champaign to Hebron. Photographs of that celebration are included among the 100-plus illustrations in the book, co-authored by Scott Johnson and Julie Kistler, who will also be on hand for the book signing.

Proceeds from Once There Were Giants go to the Illinois High School Activities Foundation.

In March, all eight surviving players from the '52 championship team will be honored at both the high school boys Class A and AA state finals at Carver Arena in Peoria.

The McHenry County Conservation District will be holding its next Candlelight Ski program Fri. and Sat., Jan. 18-19 from 5-9 p.m. at the Marengo Ridge Conservation Area, Rte. 23 in Marengo. For further information, please contact the McHenry County Conservation District main office at 815-338-6223.

Looking to see some of the best bowlers in the Lake County area? The 73rd Annual Lake County Bowling Association tournament will be held at Lakes Bowl in Round Lake.

Team events will be held Feb. 9-10, 16-17 and 23 with starting times noon and 3 p.m. Competition for singles and doubles events will be Feb. 24, March 2-3 and 9-10 with starting times being noon and 3:30 p.m.

For more information regarding the tournament, please contact Eddie Zelesnik at 847-

County offers winter baseball

The Lake County Baseball marks its 12th annual Winter Baseball Clinic. This clinic teaches the young ball player the techniques of hitting, pitching, catching, fielding, baserunning and bunting. Each week features a specialized aspect and skill as well as hitting drills. The camp starts Sat., Jan. 19 and Sun., Jan. 20 and will continue through the first weekend in March. This clinic is the perfect spot for ball players to practice their skills, to perfect individual techniques, to increase their knowledge of the game and to participate in their own "spring training" for the 2002 baseball season. Campers are divided by the age of the ball player to facilitate and tailor the instructions to the specific age group. Campers may choose either Saturday or Sunday to attend. Head instructor for the camp is Lake County Baseball Director and Coach Art Mansavage, whose son Mac Mansavage, will help with the instruction. A host of college players from Triton College as well as other ex-Lake County Chiefs will also be on hand to offer instruction. The camp will be held at Wilmet Elementary School Gym at Deerfield.

The camp is limited in size but there are still a few openings available. For more information, contact Lake County Baseball at 847-945-9606.

FWA to join Wisconsin agency on river issues

Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) is planning to work with its counterpart north of the border.

A cooperative situation is in the works as the Fox Lake based FWA board has adopted a resolution to work with Southeast Fox River Commission.

"We will work with Congressman Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) and use the model of obtaining funds that the Des Plaines River model used," said James McKinley, FWA Board chairman. "There has been interest on both sides."

McKinley said the Des Plaines River restoration has been successful at obtaining federal funds over the years.

"They are responsible for the Fox River in Wisconsin. They have been around since 1987. They were looking for an agency to mirror their actions from," said Lori-Mai, FWA spokesman.

"We had a fabulous year for the agency," McKinley said of 2001.

"The No. 1 thing is that the IDNR (Illinois Department of Natural Resources) has totally accepted us. We receive $2 million a year in the budget process," McKinley said.

Congressman Phil Crane

He said the funds should be safe from Gov. George Ryan's budget cuts because they are capital in nature.

Victories in the court helped establish the FWA authority. The FWA won decisions favorable to its regulation of piers, boat noise and with the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission.

Other areas of improvement include the installation of five-year buoys. "In a normal year, we had $20,000 in expenses to replace buoys. Not one has been hit. They are safer and brighter," McKinley said.

McKinley said the FWA board, which meets in Fox Lake and McHenry, is now a harmonious one.

"We are also looking to reorganize the advisory board. We want to give them more to do," McKinley said.

The FWA has offices in Fox Lake. It is responsible to improve and maintain the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes public waterway from the Wisconsin border to the Algonquin Dam for recreational uses, to restore environmental quality, control flooding, promote tourism, and to enhance the quality of life along the waterway for residents alike.

For additional information, call the FWA at 847 587-8540.

U of I starts nutrition training series

Dietitians, home economists and healthcare providers will want to take advantage of a University of Illinois Extension in-service training series on current nutrition topics.

Slated to begin Jan. 17, 2002, U of I faculty will present the latest research-based information on nutritional needs of the elderly, the biological basis of hunger, childhood obesity, the new cholesterol guidelines, and international food guide systems. Two CPE hours of credit for each of the five sessions has been applied for from the American Dietetic Association, and a total of 10 CPE hours will be available for the series.

The sessions will be conducted via a teleconferencing system in selected Extension offices throughout the state including the Lake County office at 100 S. U.S. Highway 45 in Grayslake. All sessions will run from 3:30-5:30 p.m. on Jan. 17, Feb. 21, March 21, April 18 and May 16, 2002.

Participants can register for individual sessions or for the entire series. Registration is $10 per session or $45 for the five-part series. To register or to obtain additional information, contact Robert Reber at 217-244-2851 or rreber@uiuc.edu, or call the Extension office in Lake County at 847-223-8627.

FWA to join Wisconsin agency on river issues

Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) is planning to work with its counterpart north of the border.

A cooperative situation is in the works as the Fox Lake based FWA board has adopted a resolution to work with Southeast Fox River Commission.

"We will work with Congressman Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) and use the model of obtaining funds that the Des Plaines River model used," said James McKinley, FWA Board chairman. "There has been interest on both sides."

McKinley said the Des Plaines River restoration has been successful at obtaining federal funds over the years.

"They are responsible for the Fox River in Wisconsin. They have been around since 1987. They were looking for an agency to mirror their actions from," said Lori Mai, FWA spokesman.

"We had a fabulous year for the agency," McKinley said of 2001.

"The No. 1 thing is that the IDNR (Illinois Department of Natural Resources) has totally accepted us. We receive $2 million a year in the budget process," McKinley said.

Congressman Phil Crane

He said the funds should be safe from Gov. George Ryan's budget cuts because they are capital in nature.

Victories in the court helped establish the FWA authority. The FWA won decisions favorable to its regulation of piers, boat noise and with the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission.

Other areas of improvement include the installation of five-year buoys. "In a normal year, we had $20,000 in expenses to replace buoys. Not one has been hit. They are safer and brighter," McKinley said.

McKinley said the FWA board, which meets in Fox Lake and McHenry, is now a harmonious one.

"We are also looking to reorganize the advisory board. We want to give them more to do," McKinley said.

The FWA has offices in Fox Lake. It is responsible to improve and maintain the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes public waterway from the Wisconsin border to the Algonquin Dam for recreational uses, to restore environmental quality, control flooding, promote tourism, and to enhance the quality of life along the waterway for residents alike.

For additional information, call the FWA at 847 587-8540.

U of I starts nutrition training series

Dietitians, home economists and healthcare providers will want to take advantage of a University of Illinois Extension in-service training series on current nutrition topics.

Slated to begin Jan. 17, 2002, U of I faculty will present the latest research-based information on nutritional needs of the elderly, the biological basis of hunger, childhood obesity, the new cholesterol guidelines, and international food guide systems. Two CPE hours of credit for each of the five sessions has been applied for from the American Dietetic Association, and a total of 10 CPE hours will be available for the series.

The sessions will be conducted via a teleconferencing system in selected Extension offices throughout the state including the Lake County office at 100 S. U.S. Highway 45 in Grayslake. All sessions will run from 3:30-5:30 p.m. on Jan. 17, Feb. 21, March 21, April 18 and May 16, 2002.

Participants can register for individual sessions or for the entire series. Registration is $10 per session or $45 for the five-part series. To register or to obtain additional information, contact Robert Reber at 217-244-2851 or r-reber@uiuc.edu, or call the Extension office in Lake County at 847-223-8627.

An additional unit has been set aside for an on-site resident manager. Rents will be affordable to seniors on fixed incomes.

The development is within easy walking distance to downtown Grayslake, which has all the shopping, grocery, restaurant, beauty shops and service stores needed.

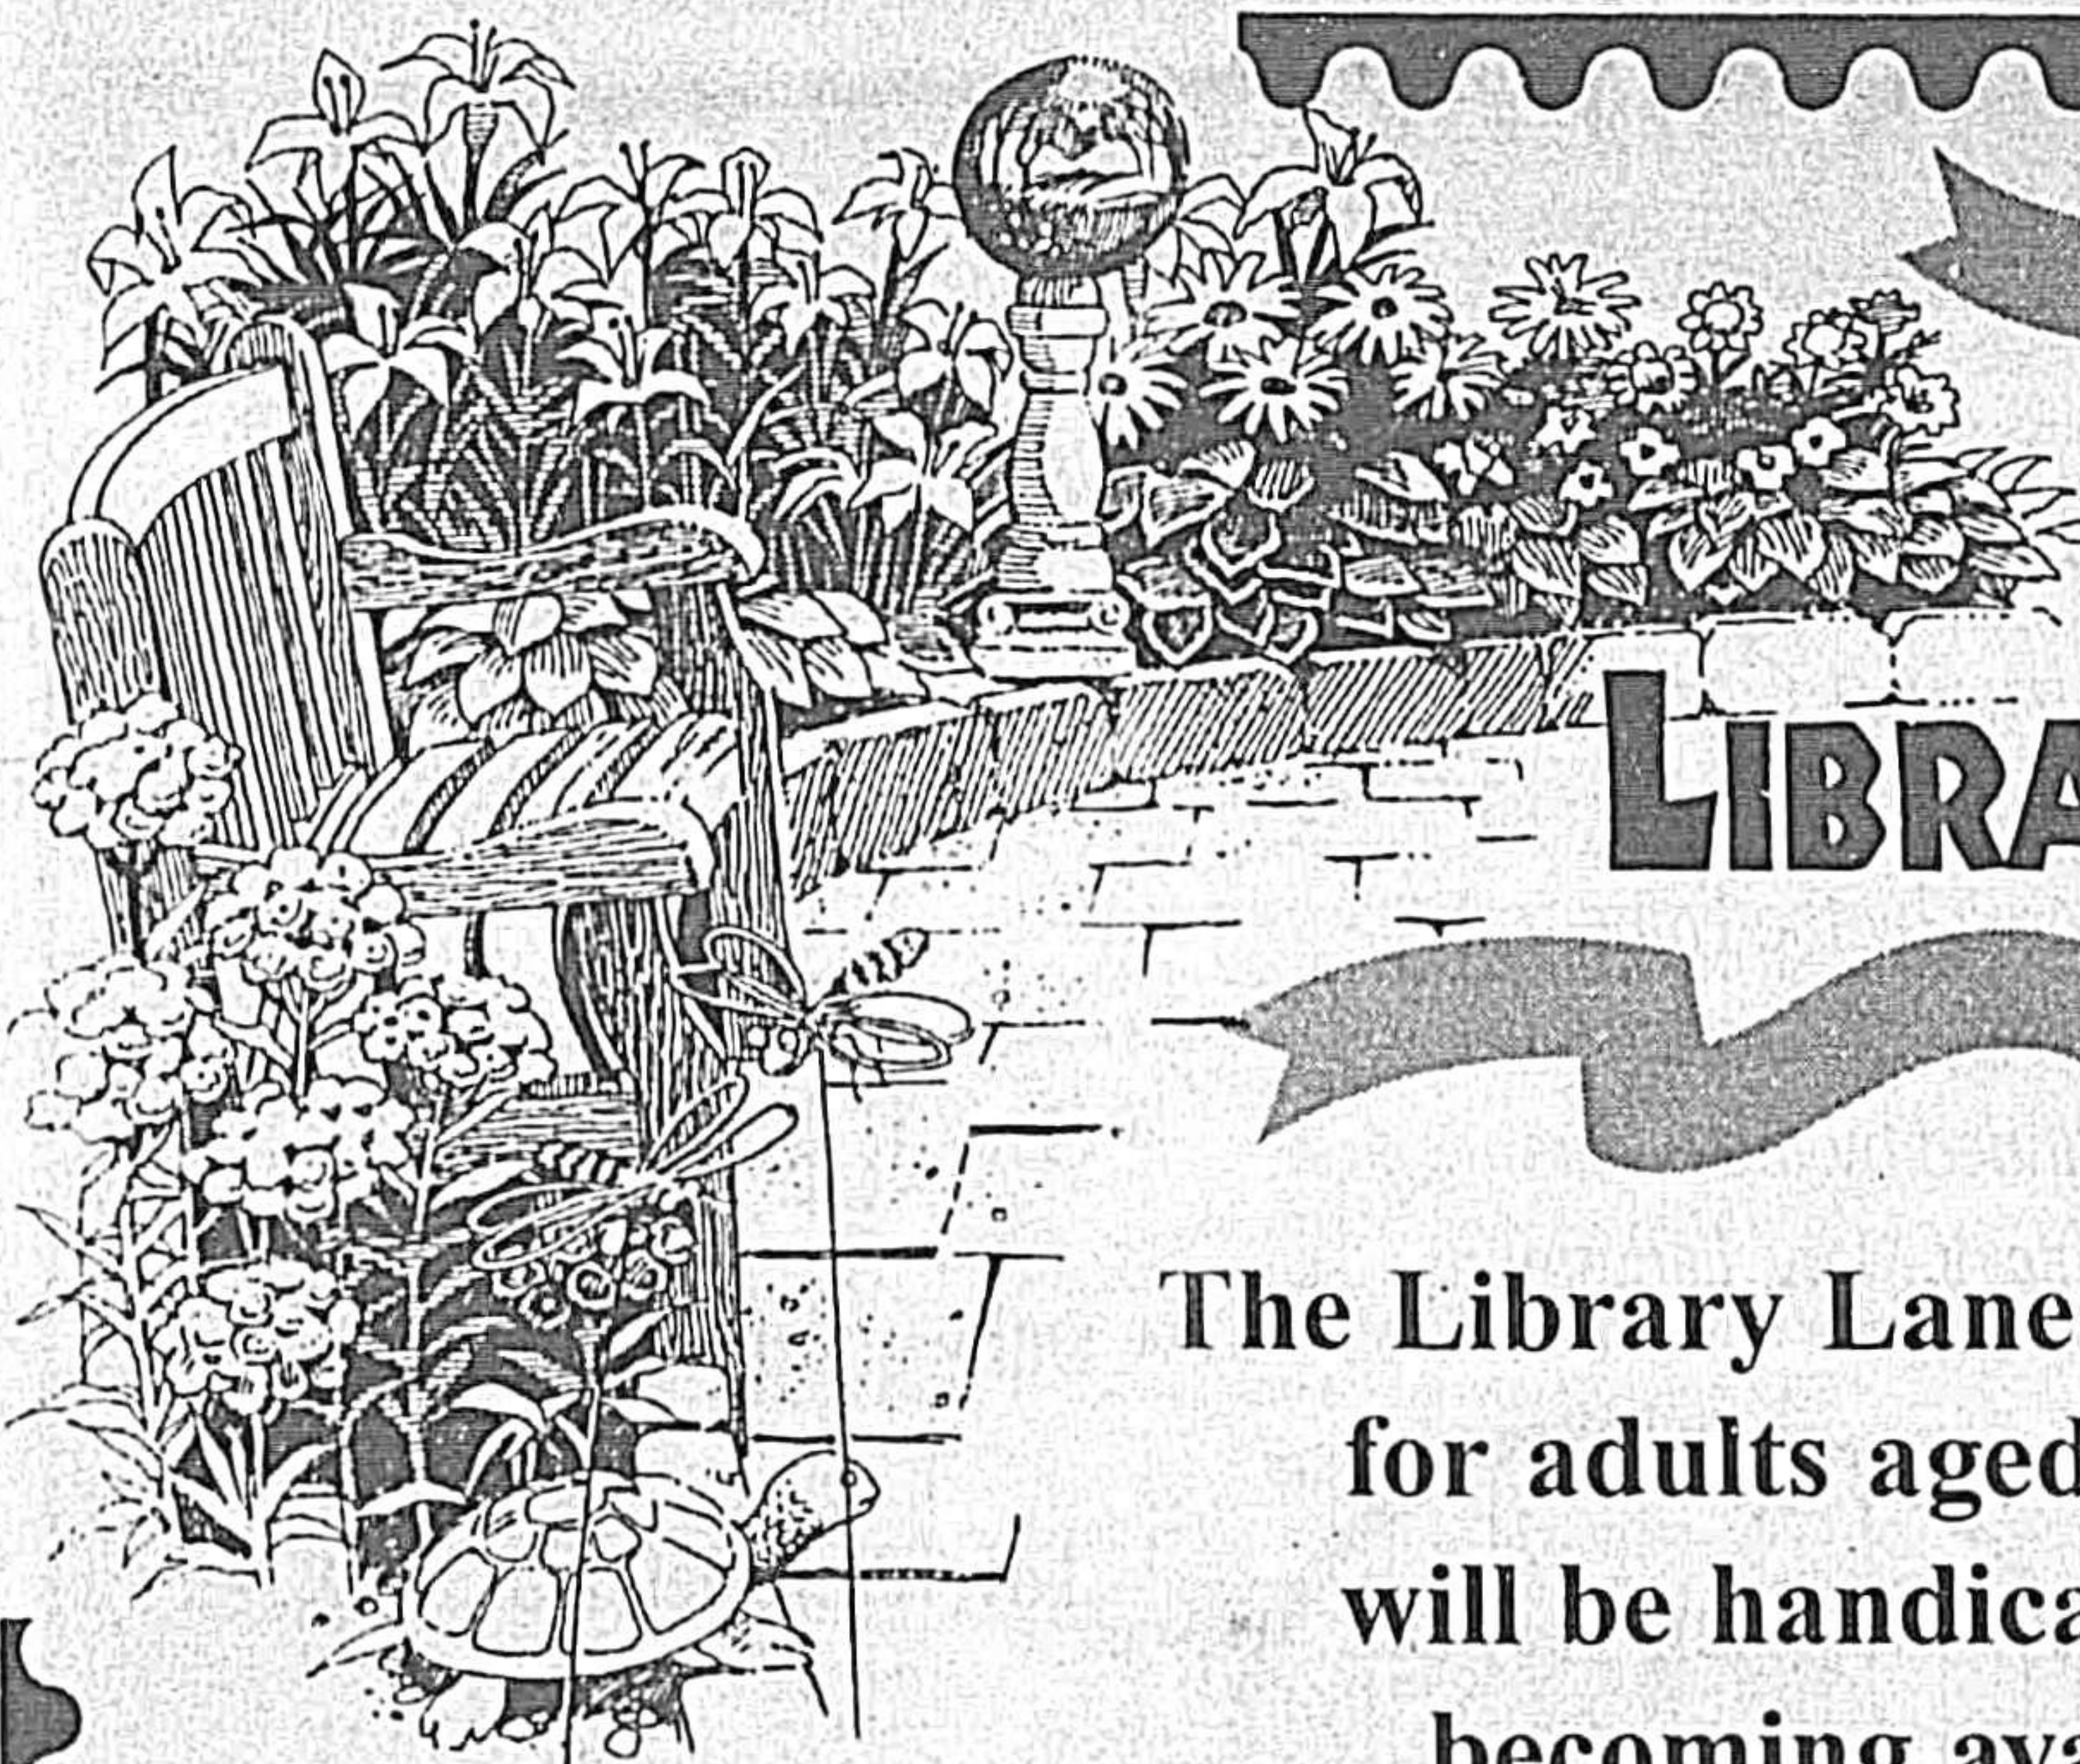

The Grayslake Community Senior Center will be located in the building and will be administered by Catholic Charities. Residents will have immediate access to all of the subsequent activities such as social/educational enrichment programs and their on-site congregate meals.

All of the apartment homes will offer fully equipped kitchens, large closets and bathrooms, and open air patios or balconies.

All of the units and the common areas will be handicapped accessible. The building will have two elevators, a social room with kitchen, a fitness center, a billiard room, a computer center and a parlor room. Laundry facilities will be located on the first floor. A pond with walks, gardens and seating areas will comprise the front of the building. Outdoor parking will be available to all residents in the rear.

An applicant will be contacted approximately 90 days prior to a unit becoming available. The rents will be based upon income as well as assets. Since the rents and income limits are not yet set, anticipated rent is not yet ready. At this time, the property and floorplans may be viewed, and more information about rents will be available. Rents will start at $425 per month for a studio, and $483 per month for a one-bedroom. They will go up slightly from there, depending upon a resident's financial situation.

For further information, please contact Andy DeBruler at 847-367-1111 ext. 13.

COMING SOON IN GRAYSLAKE LIBRARY LANE SENIOR RESIDENCE

The Library Lane Senior Residence will be a 148 unit development for adults aged 62 & up. All of the units and common areas will be handicapped accessible. We anticipate the first units becoming available around the middle of February 2002.

- AFFORDABLE RENT TO SENIORS ON FIXED INCOMES
- FULLY EQUIPPED KITCHENS, LARGE CLOSETS & BATHROOMS
- ALL APARTMENTS HAVE OPEN PATIOS OR BALCONIES
- LAUNDRY FACILITIES LOCATED ON THE FIRST FLOOR
- GROCERIES, RESTAURANTS, BEAUTY SHOPS & SERVICE STORES ALL IN WALKING DISTANCE
- A POND WITH WALKS, GARDENS & SEATING IN FRONT OF THE BUILDING.

The birth of a Community

Just over four years ago, an exciting project was begun. In May of 1997, the first shovelful of dirt was turned for what has become The Village at Victory Lakes. From a little dust to a thriving community in four short years.

To look at the Village on a map, you see a cluster of cottage homes, an apartment building with nearby garages, a building that houses assisted living suites and another that is a skilled nursing facility. Looking at a map, you don't see the community.

But it's here, nestled in Lindenhurst, just off Grand Avenue. The community is the people who have chosen to live at the Village at Victory Lakes.

They've made it an active, friendly place to spend their retirement years. They've taken an interest in their neighbors and become friends. They've taken an interest in their living space — whether cottage, apartment, suite or room — and made it home.

Like other communities, The Village at Victory Lakes has evolved according to the interests and needs of its residents. There's a library that offers an engaging mix of book titles to entice both casual and avid readers. And, a growing desire by Village residents to learn and surf the web led to the creation of its own computer lab. The Country Store serves as a community meeting place, as well as a convenient place to shop. And, the cooking club, community gardens, Bible study groups, craft clubs and more provide an outlet for people with similar interests to meet and share experiences.

The Village at Victory Lakes has emerged as a place where people care about each other. It's a place where neighbors water your plants when you are out of town. It's a place where neighbors join together to enjoy a concert or play a game of pool. It's a place where neighbors meet over coffee to discuss the day's events.

The Village at Victory Lakes is a place like no other. It's about community. It's about life and the relationships that make it worth living.

For information on retirement living at the Village at Victory Lakes, call Joni Bouchard, 847-356-4666.

Getting around has never been easier

Sixteen percent of today's population needs some type of adaptive device to help them cope with a disability.

Since 1955, Steele Mobility: A Division of Steele Surgical Supply Co., has been providing medical equipment that serves these needs.

From safety grab bars, wheelchairs, ramps and lifts to complex, state-of-the-art mobility systems, Steele can improve the quality of life of individuals with minor impairments, as well as those with severe disabilities.

Ken Spangler, the sales and installation manager, is proud of the services he and his staff offer. Notes Spangler, "Sometimes it is just a matter of letting folks know what's available. New products are constantly coming out in this field. We follow product development closely, test them and get the best ones available to fit our customer's needs."

While acknowledging that many health-care products are available on the Internet, he says, "The strength of our company is in the fact that we offer disabled individuals personalized services. In this business, we have learned that this is very important. We are able to observe their complete lifestyle and tailor our products to suit their needs." An example of such personalized service would be the custom seating and positioning of wheelchairs and power chairs.

Steele's efficient office staff will complete all necessary paperwork including Medicare and insurance billing.

Steele Mobility is located at 2727 Washington St. in Waukegan. They are open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For a no-cost evaluation, call 847-360-4378.

Signs for a healthy future

One of the current health concerns facing the senior population deals with metabolic syndromes and hypertension.

Dr. Sergei Shevlyagin of Atkinson Clinic in Grayslake has shared the following information, not only regarding metabolic syndromes and hypertension, but also a few ways that Lake County residents can go about prevention.

Metabolic syndromes are attracting more and more attention among researchers and practicing physicians. The key features of metabolic syndromes include central obesity, insulin resistance, impaired glucose tolerance and diabetes, as well as various lipid disturbances. According to Dr. Shevlyagin, "Central obesity is characterized by increased hip to waist ratio with an elevated risk of hypertension, diabetes and coronary artery disease."

The risk for coronary artery disease and heart attack rises with continuous and graded increase in level of insulin in patients with diabetes. "It is unclear if insulin by itself is causing atherosclerosis," said Shevlyagin. "But it is a certain marker for future vascular events."

Different clinical trials demonstrated the increase in fatal and non-fatal heart attacks during step-wise progression in glucose level established in patients with different types of diabetes. This trend was independent from other established risk factors – homocysteine, lipoprotein-a and fibrinogen.

"Most intriguing is a connection between the continuous rise in glucose level and graded increase in systolic and diastolic blood pressures, total cholesterol, decrease in HDL cholesterol and an increase in fasting triglycerides," said Shevlyagin.

Recent research suggests that triglycerides are an important risk factor in men and women (especially women), the risk of heart disease associated with high triglycerides increases with the elevation of total cholesterol level.

To help in prevention, Dr. Shevlyagin recommends some lifestyle changes. "In our clinical practice we encompass different aspects of prevention," said Shevlyagin. "They include exercise, lifestyle changes, as well as judicious use of different types of medications."

"Current research and the abundance of drugs supported by solid clinical trials help to tailor the treatment to the specific needs of different parties."

A helping hand in healthcare

Vista Health created its Senior Spirit program because it believes the healthcare process should be simple to access—especially for older adults.

The program is designed for people aged 55 and older and offers a wide array of benefits. Membership in this unique program helps to develop a nearly effortless relationship with Vista Health — from insurance processing to preventive health screenings.

At the center of these benefits is the personal Senior Spirit SHIP coordinator. These well-trained volunteers, answer questions, provide resources and generally provide support to those wading through their medical bills. Counselors are now located at both the Provena Saint Therese Medical Center and the Victory Memorial Hospital sites for member convenience.

In addition, for a $20 annual membership fee ($35 for married couples) seniors receive one free cholesterol screening each year, a variety of other free or low-cost screenings, savings on prescription medications, reserved parking, social activities and much more.

Of the many benefits members enjoy, maybe the best is Vista Health itself. The personable, friendly staff of Vista Health look forward to assisting area residents in maintaining good health.

Conserve your life savings and maybe avoid nursing home stay

It's not a popular topic of conversation, but the fact is we're getting older and many of us are going to need some extra care in our senior years.

By the time we reach age 65, we have a four in ten chance of spending time in a nursing home — that's nearly half of all of us! The chances of needing some other type of long-term care are even greater since 80 percent of care is given outside nursing homes.

And, as you can imagine, this care isn't going to come cheap. It's estimated that by the year 2030, the number of people receiving nursing home care will double to 5.3 million, and the average annual cost of a nursing home stay will increase from $40,000 to $97,000.

We can depend on Medicare; it pays only a fraction of nursing home costs. Before we become eligible for Medicaid, we may need to use up most of our own assets.

Most of us would rather deny we will need long-term care, but denial is not the answer. Securing Long Term Care insurance is the best thing we can do to ease our minds and conserve our life savings. And, it's a good idea to obtain a policy early (you can get a policy as young as age 18) because the annual premium payments are lower, and it's easier to qualify for a policy.

Long Term Care insurance can pay the cost should you need to spend some time in a nursing home. But possibly the most important benefit of Long Term Care insurance is that it may keep you out of a nursing home.

That's right. A good Long Term Care policy not only pays the cost of a nursing home. It covers the cost of other care, including nursing services, home health care, hospice, licensed therapy, adult day care and homemaker services. These services can provide someone to make meals and do laundry; they can provide assistance with bathing, dressing and other daily personal care needs; they can provide physical therapy at home and more. By covering the cost of other services, Long Term Care insurance can eliminate or, at the very least, postpone the need for nursing home care.

And, you may be able to use the benefits provided by a Long Term Care policy more than once. Let's say you broke a bone, which required a short nursing home stay or eight weeks of in-home physical therapy. Your Long Term Care policy would pay the cost of that short-term care, as well as care you may need in the future. Long Term Care insurance can help ease our minds. But it is important to understand not all Long Term Care policies are alike. Some cover the cost of only nursing home care; others cover both nursing home and in-home care; some offer tax-free benefits; while others provide premium discounts if policies are purchased for both a husband and wife. Good policies offer all of these options and more.

When looking for a Long Term Care policy, it's important to do business with a financially-secure insurance company. And, to find a policy that is right for you, it's important to consider all the options, such as deductible period, daily benefits, maximum lifetime benefit and inflation protection.

Don't wait until you need care and wish you had insurance to cover the cost. Talk with a knowledgeable insurance agent today.

Currently 40% of people over 65 stay in Nursing Homes at least once...

We all want to live a long and prosperous life. And we don't want to think that we may reach a point where we won't be able to care for ourselves or our loved ones. But it happens to many of us.

How would you pay for high cost long term care?

Why Buy Now?

- Qualifying ages are 18 to 84, and premiums are less at younger ages.
- If you're in good health, you may qualify for a 15 percent Preferred Discount.

- Over the life of the contract, there is little difference in total premium between buying now or at an older age, not taking into account the time value of money.

- If you apply while you are young and healthy, you reduce the risk of developing a condition that could make you uninsurable later.

Common opinion would indicate yes. But aging isn't necessarily to blame for these afflictions. Rather, it is the INACTIVITY that often accompanies aging in this country that initiates a physical decline. Most of us have known individuals who were in great physical condition and quite active for their age. But, too often their high level of activity was attributed to excellent physical health, as if they were simply one of the "lucky ones."

Research indicates, however, that the reverse is true. The more active you remain, the better your physical health will be. Exercise combined with good nutrition is a virtual fountain of youth for those willing to participate.

Jazzercise founder and CEO, Judi Sheppard Missett, offers some basic tips for aging gracefully:

- Exercise, exercise, exercise. It doesn't have to be extremely lengthy or terribly vigorous, just consistent. Walk daily; pedal your bike to the store; go for a midday swim; spend time gardening. Find physical activities that you enjoy and do them regularly. Perhaps most important, begin a strength-training program. Again, it doesn't have to be intense to be effective. Your objective is simply to maintain your muscle mass. The loss of muscle mass that occurs with inactivity is one of the major reasons for reduced functional capacity.
- Eat a nutritious diet. Your two main objectives should be to lower your fat intake to no more than 20 to 25 percent of your daily calories and to increase your fiber intake. A plant-based diet of fruit, vegetables, grains, beans, nuts and seeds, is a surefire approach.

Decreased endurance, stiffness, poor joint mobility, extra weight, waning muscle strength...are these the inevitable symptoms of aging?

Aging gracefully with exercise

• Work on your flexibility. Stretching exercises are the best way to maintain – and even increase – your range of motion and to reduce your risk of injury. They are also a great way to relax.

When you stretch, do so only to the point of mild tension, then hold the position for 15 to 30 seconds. Stretching is most effective when performed after a warm-up or aerobic exercise activity, as muscles are most responsive when they are warm. You can live up your exercise sessions with the following exercise using a resistance ball.

Resistance balls are excellent for improving balance, stability and strength. To work your torso (back and abdominal) muscles, sit on the resistance ball with your feet flat on the floor. "Swing" your hips side to side while keeping your upper body as still as possible. Next, try tilting your pelvis forward and backward, and when you feel ready, try circling your hips both clockwise and counter clockwise.

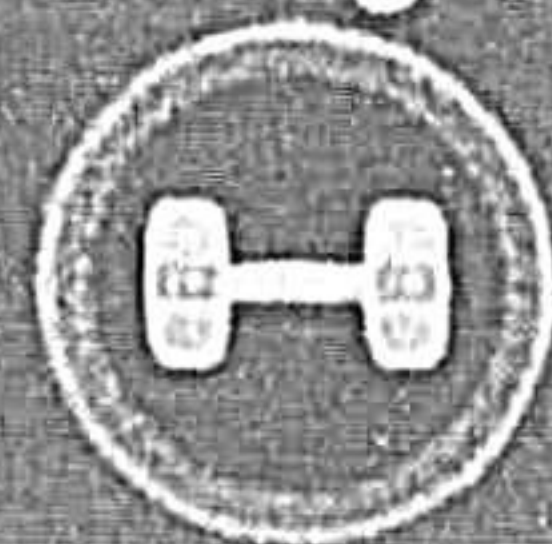

Here are some tips for better balancing: Place your feet firmly on the floor. The wider apart they are, the more stability you will have. If you'd like more of a challenge, bring your feet closer together. Think about sitting tall and using your best posture. Place your hands on the ball or out to your sides to assist in balancing, if you desire.

Brain research shows that diet and exercise are keys to living

An old adage says that aging is a state of mind, but new research is beginning to prove it.

As brain research advances, experts are finding that some of the physical and mental changes normally associated with aging may not actually be normal at all, but instead, the result of treatable and preventable health conditions. In fact, by some estimates, only 30 percent of physical aging can be traced to our genes. The rest is up to each individual.

According to the AARP Andrus Foundation, developing and maintaining good "cognitive health" is as important to a person's quality of life at any age as maintaining good physical health. A series of four new booklets, "Staying Sharp:

Current Advances in Brain Research," provides information and tips based on this new research. The booklets were derived from a series of public forums that were conducted in partnership with the Dana Alliance for Brain Initiatives, and featured the country's foremost researchers, scientists and physicians working in the field of aging and the brain. These four booklets provide some of the most up-to-date information available.

One of the key findings of this new research is that diet and exercise are crucial not just for physical well being, but also for mental acuity at any age.

The Importance of Diet

The food choices we make throughout our lives can make a difference in the likelihood for many diseases that cause premature death or disability, including heart disease, cancer, stroke and diabetes. Three long-term studies being conducted by the Harvard School of Public Health have followed 300,000 people and suggest that:

- a diet rich in vegetables may help prevent breast and prostate cancer
- colon cancer is more common among those who eat more red meat
- high-fat diets increase the risk of heart disease, stroke and some cancers
- a diet with too many refined carbohydrates increases the risk of obesity, diabetes and heart disease.

Although there are some nutritional changes associated with aging, for the most part, what was considered a healthy diet at 40 will still be a healthy diet at 60 or 70. Health experts recommend a diet that emphasizes whole grains and fresh fruits and vegetables as well as other tips:

- Drink eight to 10 cups of fluid every day, and make at least five of those water. Limit caffeinated and alcoholic beverages.
- Reduce the amount of saturated fat in your diet and replace it with monounsaturated fat such as that in olive, canola, sunflower, safflower and soybean oils.
- When snacking, choose fruits, vegetables or whole-grain products.
- Make eating fun by sharing dinnertime with family and friends, or joining community functions whenever possible.

The Benefits of Exercise

Many experts believe that regular exercise is the single most important thing anyone can do to improve overall health and well-being. New studies show that aerobic activity increases levels of brain chemicals that encourage the growth of nerve cells, which may be the reason moderately strenuous exercise is associated with enhanced memory skills.

Some ways that exercise can help retain mental capacity include:

- reducing anxiety and stress
- improving mood and possibly alleviating depression
- improving sleep
- increasing energy levels
- slowing the rate of bone loss
- enabling the body to use insulin more efficiently
- improving cardiovascular health
- controlling weight and preventing obesity

The National Institute of Aging suggests incorporating four types of exercises into your life. Endurance exercise, such as walking, helps increase stamina. Strength exercise, with free weights or resistance weights, increases metabolism and may help prevent osteoporosis. Flexibility exercise, such as stretching or yoga, prevents and aids recovery from injuries. And balance exercises, such as standing on one foot, help prevent falls.

By following these basic tips, as well as any advice from your physician related to any specific health conditions, it is possible to live well in old age as opposed to just living into old age.

The AARP Andrus Foundation's "Staying Sharp" series can be downloaded from the association's Web site at www.andrus.org/sharp/sharp\_pubs.html.

Two story home wins top awards for tour

The Home Builders Assn. Of Lake County has awarded four of its 2001 Tour of Homes honors to the Devonshire model featured at Inverness at Gregg's Landing, a 134-home maintenance-free community in Vernon Hills.

Each year, the Lake County Tour of Homes showcases new-construction single-family and multi-family homes, ranging in price from $100,000 to more than $1,000,000, throughout Lake and northern counties.

This year, the two-story Devonshire model received awards for Best Interior Architecture, Best Master Suite and Bath, Best Kitchen and Best Interior Merchandising for homes in the $395,000 to $470,000 bracket.

"The Lake County Tour of Homes presents the area's finest homes, so we are tremendously honored to be recognized for the Devonshire model," said Leon Joffe, president of Zale Homes, the developer.

The 2,817-square-foot Devonshire model features three bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, a family room, den, great room, basement and attached two-car garage. According to Joffe, the home is decorated in an Old World Tuscan style, with limestone flooring throughout the first floor and a muted green and beige décor.

Joffe said the home's most striking quality is the two-story volume ceiling in both the great room and the family room.

"Buyers are amazed at the sense of space when they walk through the front door and step into the foyer. The family room and great room are virtually encased by floor-to-ceiling windows, so sunlight just sweeps through every corner of the first floor," said Joffe. "Italian tapestries hang from the walls in both rooms, lending even more drama to the space."

Anchoring the Devonshire are the great room, which offers more than 400 square feet of living space at the front of the home and the 317-square-foot family room, located at the rear of the home. Upgrades featured in the family room include two skylights and a fireplace/entertainment center.

Providing access to both the great room and family room is the combined kitchen and breakfast room, which measures 18'2" by 17'. According to Joffe, the most notable feature in this award-winning kitchen is a peninsula workspace, in lieu of a preparation island, which includes a double-bowl sink, dishwasher and counter space.

"The layout of this kitchen emphasizes practicality and maximizes space. The peninsula is surrounded by cabinetry and adjacent to the stove, so everything is close at hand," said Joffe. "Plus, the sink and dishwasher are centrally located and open to the dining area, so you don't have to remove yourself from the party to clean up."

The kitchen also includes distressed maple and crystal cabinetry, granite countertops, a planning desk and a double-door pantry. A sliding glass door leads from the breakfast room to the back patio.

Rounding out the first floor are a powder room, a den with a 9' ceiling, and a laundry room with a double-door storage closet, access to the attached two-car garage and space for a side-by-side washer and dryer.

Upstairs, the model showcases the 232-square-foot master suite with volume ceilings, a plant shelf and a double-bowl vanity, separate shower, 6' soaker tub and separate water closet. Additional master bath features include a skylight, an art niche above the vanity and a linen closet.

"The master suite is designed as the ultimate personal escape," said Joffe. "Whereas the kitchen is designed for efficiency, the master bath is a model of indulgence."

Also featured on the second floor is a half-wall balcony overlooking the great room and family room below, as well as two additional bedrooms with double-door closets and a second bath with a double-bowl vanity.

BRIDAL SHOWCASE 2001

WEDDING

Mr. & Mrs. James Bucar

Angela & James Bucar

On Sept. 21, 2001, Angela M. Taber and James F. Bucar of Brewster, Mass. on Cape Cod, were united in marriage at the Harbor Point in Cummaquid, Mass. by Rev. Henry Perry. A reception immediately followed.

The bride, daughter of Roland E. Taber Jr. of Forestdale, was given in marriage by her father to the son of Phyllis A. Bucar and Dr. and Mrs. A.A. Bucar of Antioch.

The bride graduated from Pine Manor College in Chestnut Hill, Mass. and is employed as a retail store manager with the Claire Murray Company in West Barnstable, Mass.

The bridegroom is a graduate of both Antioch Community High School in Antioch and Elmhurst College in Elmhurst and is employed as a program director with The May Institute in HarwichPort, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Bucar are planning a delayed honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands, San Francisco and Los Angeles in February, 2002. The Bucar's reside near the historic Olde Kings Highway in Brewster, Mass.

ENGAGEMENTS

Picket/Lloyd

Fred and Joyce Picket of Grayslake have announced the engagement of their daughter, Michelle Picket to Jeremiah Lloyd. Jeremiah is the son of David Lloyd of Zion and Debbie Lloyd of Jensen Beach, Fla.

Their wedding is planned for July 27.

Michelle Picket & Jeremiah Lloyd

Trina Madole & Joseph Metz

Madole/Metz

The parents of Trina Madole and Joseph Metz have announced their engagement.

Timothy and Lana Madole of Spring Grove are the parents of Trina, the bride-to-be.

The parents of the groom-to-be are, Henry and Carol Metz of Richmond.

The wedding of Trina and Joseph will be Aug. 3, 2002.

60th ANNIVERSARY

Lucille and Richard Doherty

Lucille and Richard Doherty celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Oct. 11.

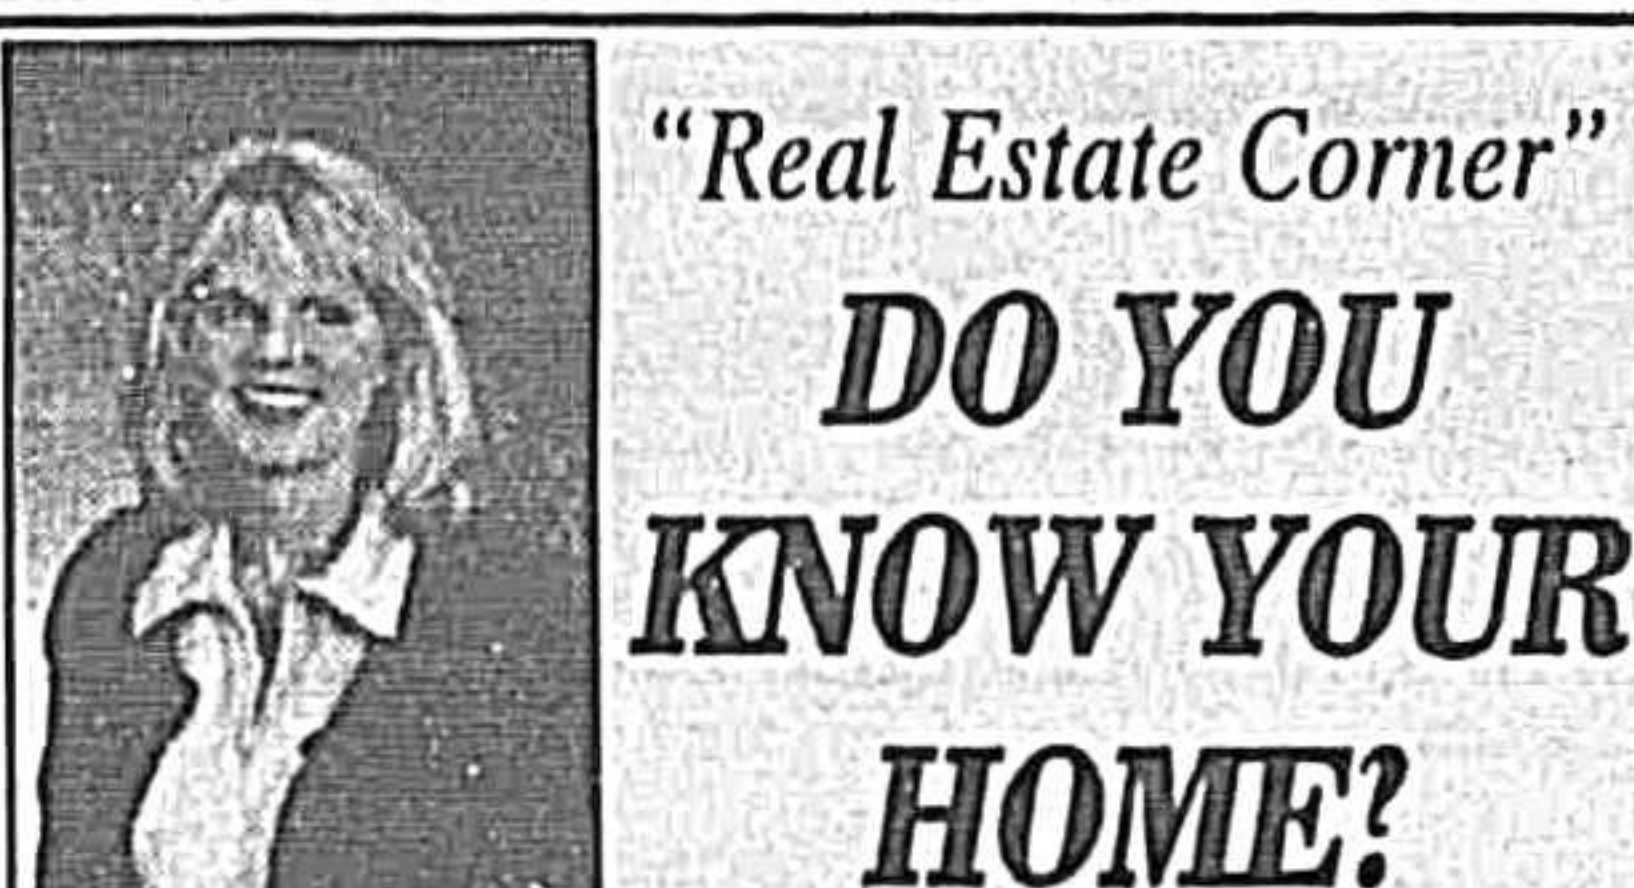

They lived in the Fox Lake area for over 50 years before moving to their current residence in Gurnee. They have four children, 10 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

They were part owners of the Peppermint Stick Pre-School in Grayslake for 27 years.

A celebration party was given by their children at the home of Deborah Hopkins in Grayslake.

BUYING TO SELL

If you want to buy a house, fix it up and then sell it at a profit, here are some guidelines for a more profitable project.

Ask your real estate broker to help you select a neighborhood with a recent history of increasing property values. Also look for a house that's been on the market for a long time; the seller may be ready to deal. The house should be comparable in size to its neighbors, structurally sound, but in need of modernization.

Start with the landscaping and the home's exterior. This is what the buyers see first. Next, concentrate on the "hot spots" of buyer appeal - a bright kitchen and modern baths. And look for low cost ways to increase closet and cabinet space. ©

Trimming Newspaper From Your Ad Budget Would Be Like Cutting Out Money To Close The Sale.

You've got their attention. You've piqued their interest. You've got them right smack up to the line. And then, just when they're ready to buy, you turn tail and walk away.

That's what happens when you don't run in newspaper. You're thumbing your nose at thousands of ready prospects and leaving the money behind. Because that's where most people make their decisions on where to shop and what to buy.

Studies show that 71% say newspaper is the place they turn to for shopping advice. They rate the information as four times more helpful than TV. Overwhelmingly more effective than direct mail. And the only source of information that gets them when they're actually in the mood to buy.

So, before you consider cutting newspaper for your budget, ask yourself: Are you also prepared to take a cut in sales?

We can all learn from the resignation of a football coach By Scott T. Fleischmann

For those of you who have followed the recent misadventures of the football coaching resignation at a well-known university, skip this first paragraph. For everyone else, here is the story. Several weeks ago, the head football coach at a well known university left that job after several seasons of poor won/loss records. He was replaced, with much hoopla, by the head coach from another school. That coach resigned one week later, citing errors in his biographical data as the reason.

The names of the school and the individuals involved are left out because my purpose is not to analyze this incident but to identify what we can all learn from those events. I have seen more misinformation on resumes than I care to admit. In this case, the coach resigned and the school accepted his resignation. Unfortunately, employers have few reasonable options if they have hired someone who has not provided accurate information.

So, what is the lesson that we can all learn? Be painfully truthful about your skills and experience. That seems simple so I should end the article here, right? Wrong! The misinformation on a resume or biographical sketch is not always done with intent. Here are some examples.

- I once needed to confront a candidate on what appeared to be an error on his resume. It turns out that the person who typed his resume made an error that gave him far more experience than he had.
- The reference of another candidate told me about what a great job the candidate had done leading a project that interested me. On further questioning, the candidate confirmed that she had done the project but did not seem to have the detailed knowledge of someone who had led such a project. She later confessed that the reference must have confused her with the project leader. (She also confessed that she was taking credit for the work that someone else had done because she thought she could get a better paying position.)

• A candidate once had a resume that listed significant athletic accomplishments at a major university. Upon investigation we learned that those accomplishments were at a junior college that the candidate attended before he attended that university.

Some of these issues may not seem important. However, every mistake is important. Let's assume that upon investigation a minor error is found to be an intentional fabrication. My advice to employers is don't hire someone who lies. Another option is that the error could be an oversight. Although less significant, I seldom advise clients to hire people who are careless.

The bottom line is take responsibility for what is on your resume and for what others say about you. Friends may exaggerate your skills and experience, but you need to make sure that a future employer knows that it is an exaggeration. Your relationship with a future employer is always best served if they have a completely accurate understanding of your skills and experience.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q I was one victim of 20 who was recently involved in a downsizing by our employer. Although I realize that more could have been done to save our jobs, it was not for me to say. While I am upset over losing my job of just over 2 years, I feel a lot worse for some of the employees who were released with 5 years plus under their belts. They feel deceived by the employer and feel more could have been done to help us. We formed our own support group that 9 of us are attending to see what we can do to help each other. Could you give us some suggestions that may guide us? W.L. (via email)

A I am assuming you left on good terms and that your employer did not offer you any outplacement group to turn to for guidance in seeking employment. Forming your own support group sounds great as long as you are spending the time being pro-active in seeking other employment and not spending the time complaining and rehearsing the dreaded scenario of losing your jobs. Negativity breeds negativity and misery loves company. Do not fall into that rut. As for what you can do to help each other... lend support to move on. Having a clean resume ready at all times is a given. If they do not have a resume, work together on getting a good format that you can all use. If you need a format, your local library has many books on creating a resume. Practice interviewing techniques. Have each person make a list of companies they would like to target and act on them. Encourage them to apply with an employment service such as ours that offers full service placement direct line (permanent), temporary and temporary to direct hire. Do not hand hold each other too much. No good can come from that and you may find that some have a dependency that is overwhelming. You can use each other for support, but as soon as you start to depend on one another you will have a whole new set of issues. Some may find themselves being held back and this group may turn out to be a good excuse not to move on. Don't go there. Many corporations faced with downsizing are actually turning to their employees and asking for input in cutting back. Many corporations that I am associated with have employees who have offered to cut their hours or job share with fellow employees in an effort to save their positions. Others have discussed ideas on how to curtail unnecessary spending such as that of telephone and internet usage. A few have temporarily turned 2 shifts into one shift to save the cost of electric, heat and manufacturing during slower times. And then there are those whose management have had their salaries cut to avoid layoffs themselves. As I am told by a few of these corporations, most of the ideas to save corporate dollars come from the employees themselves. Something that more companies should implement not just when the economy gets rough. In the event you are on a rehire status and this may be a temporary lay-off, you may wish to come up with some ideas that you can present to your employer that may save money and bring some of these employees back. It couldn't hurt, but it needs to be presented professionally and with your re-employment in mind. One corporation in particular has always prided itself on their company suggestion box. Some of the finest ideas for saving money come from employees. Ideas that are so simple that it's almost an embarrassment how much money a company can waste and amazing how much they can save.

Is Your Child Autistic?
New Info Links Autism to Routine Vaccinations

In 1999, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the U.S. Public Health Service issued a joint statement recommending the removal of the preservative thimerosal from vaccines routinely given to children. Thimerosal is a preservative which is almost 50% ethylmercury, a toxic compound. Exposure to the mercury in thimerosal can cause permanent damage to the brain as well as other organs. One common effect of exposure to mercury in children is autism. If your child is autistic and has been immunized, call us for a free consultation.
